TWO CENTS

WATERS CLOSED OVER EAST LIVERPOOL BOYS

Two Lads Named Beatty and Hodgson Drowned Near Grim's Bridge.

HELP FAILED TO REACH THEM

Their Boat Capsized and They Went Down to Rise No More.

GREAT EXCITEMENT CAUSED

By the Terrible Accident—Parents of the Lads Nearly Prostrated With Grief—Boys Were Capsized From a Boat—Bodies Not Found.

Word reached the city about noon today of the drowning of two East Liverpool boys. They were: ANGUS HODGSON, of Norton street, FRANK BEATTY, of California Hollow.

The melancholy accident took place near Grim's bridge, a few miles northeast of the city, in Little Beaver creek.

Major Davidson and Chief of Police Thompson were notified of the accident and started out about 1 o'clock to drive to the scene. No information was contained in the message to the police authorities save that the boys belonged in East Liverpool and had been drowned.

Hodgson was the son of B. H. Hodgson, of 200 Norton street. The Beatty lad, his companion, lived in California hollow.

The friends and relatives of both boys were greatly shocked by the intelligence.

A News Review reporter drove out to Grim's bridge as soon as possible after the accident was reported.

The Hodgson boy was born in Lucyville, Pa., in 1884, and has resided here 12 years. He left last evening with Beatty for the camp at Fernwood, near Grim's bridge. Beatty was 24 years old. Hodgson's parents are now visiting in Logansport, Ind.

The boys were crossing the creek in a boat when the craft capsized. They went down in deep water. The bodies have not been recovered.

WANT TO JOLLIFY

The Fourth May Yet Be Celebrated. Citizens Arranging Meeting.

A meeting was held in the office of a local magistrate this afternoon in which a number of business men and leading citizens were present. The object of the meeting was to reach a decision as to how to arrange for a celebration of the Fourth of July.

The gentlemen concluded that a public meeting should be called and a subscription taken up.

It is too late now to attempt to hold a celebration on a large scale, but an effort will be made to commemorate the event in the most appropriate way possible.

LOCKHART IN JAIL

Alleged Insane Man Locked Up at Wellsville—Diplomacy Exercised.

Joseph Lockhart, of Congo, the proprietor of a steam ferry to Wellsville, wandered into that city today and is in jail. He will probably be held and examined as to his sanity. Lockhart is a strong man, and to avoid trouble a trick was played on him. To get him into a cell, Park Leech, who is on friendly terms with him, walked into the cell with him on pretense of looking around. When Lockhart was not looking, Leech was let out and the key turned on Lockhart.

TICE-MOSSE

Young Couple Married By Dr. Crawford at the Home of the Bride.

The marriage of Mr. Newton Mosser and Miss Florence Tice was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 250 Bradshaw avenue, by Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the presence of a number of friends. A wedding supper was served and the happy couple received the congratulations of a large number of friends. They will make their home in this city.

LISBON AND SALEM

PROPOSE TO HAVE A RAILWAY TO THEMSELVES.

Rumor That the Projected Road to East Liverpool Is Dropped Not Credited.

The latest story about the proposed electric line between Salem and East Liverpool is that East Liverpool will not be connected with it. Rumors have been flying thick and fast the past few days about the line.

The talk at Salem is that the railway will be simply constructed from Salem to Lisbon and the part from Lisbon to East Liverpool dropped for the time being. The Cleveland capitalists and engineers who made the trip over the entire route last week, are alleged to have come to this conclusion. One of the alleged reasons for the abandonment of the East Liverpool part is the many high hills and grades.

This does not bear out the statements made by U. J. Smith when he was here. He was enthusiastic over the prospects of the line and promised the East Liverpool people a chance of riding to the county seat very soon. It is absurd to believe that the railway projectors would deliberately propose to cut off the main source of their revenue. The cities of East Liverpool and Wellsville and the population of the adjacent districts would furnish more patronage for a Lisbon electric line in a day than Salem would in a week.

It may be that it is the intention of the railroad builders first to connect up Lisbon and Salem, but it may be safely set down for a fact that the Salem, Lisbon and East Liverpool street railway will not be built and the most important part of it left uncompleted.

As for the hills, of which Salem people profess to be in so much fear, East Liverpool street railways manage to get over and around them, and the Clevelanders back of the new scheme can do so if they wish and without much difficulty.

BUCKLEY-ADAMS

Prominent Young Couple Married And at Once Taken to Their New Home in Chester.

John Turner Adams and Miss Mary Alice Buckley were married last evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. C. G. Jordan. Miss Rose Dailor, of Wheeling, and Harry Hoff, of this city, stood up for the couple, and immediately after the ceremony the party were driven to Mr. Adams' new home already prepared on Indiana avenue, Chester.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley, of Franklin avenue, while the groom is one of the best known potters in the city.

OKEY-WORCESTER

A Wellsville Young Lady And an East Liverpool Young Man Married.

Miss Ethel Okey, of Wellsville, and Mr. George Worcester, of this city, were married last evening at the residence of Rev. C. G. Jordan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The bride is a well known young lady of Wellsville. Mr. Worcester is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worcester, of Fourth street. The young couple left last evening for Pittsburgh, and a wedding trip. They will reside here.

ANOTHER FAILURE

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sebring arrived home today from their wedding tour to the Pan-American exposition.

GREAT SPORT

CATCHING FISH

Reservoir Was Drained and the Italians Caused Fun For The Crowd.

MADE A GOOD BIG HAUL

NOTICE OF APPEAL ENTERED

Their Catch Including Some Fine Fish. The Water Works Department Gives the Reservoir a Thorough Cleaning.

Superintendent Morley and a force of men cleaned out the reservoir last night. Mr. Morley promised the Italians who were employed on the construction of the new reservoir that they should have all the fish found in the reservoir. When all but three feet of the water was drained out Mr. Morley placed a covering over the pipe and the Italians went in after the fish.

With the mud and water it was about waist deep on them, and they were armed with buckets, rakes and hoes. The fish objected to being caught so easily and when a rush was made for them they would rush away, and the men, unable to run in the mud, would take a header, several of their companions falling on top. The mud baths did not discourage them and they kept on at the work until they had secured about 40 good sized fish, mainly carp and catfish.

One Italian seized a big catfish and got the sharp barb in his finger. He howled and dropped the fish, while the crowd roared. The sport furnished amusement for about 200 people. Some of them said it was better than a circus.

Many of the fish caught by the Italians weighed from two to five pounds each.

After the fishing was over the reservoir was given a thorough cleaning.

To clean out the reservoir required the services of a large force of men from 6 o'clock p.m. until 3 a.m. About three feet of mud and slime were removed from the basin, but no bodies of dogs or cats were found, as is usually the case whenever a reservoir is cleaned.

Mr. Gipner stated that he did not think the cleaning of the reservoir would at all change the muddy condition of the water used from the hydrants, as it was drawn from above where the mud was removed.

He says the water works people can't make clear water out of the muddy liquid of the Ohio at the present time.

BARKING DOG

Has Tortured the Neighbors of Its Owner Until Their Patience Has Become Exhausted.

A family living near the Burford pottery possess a dog which has so taxed the patience of the residents of that immediate vicinity that unless the brute is disposed of it will meet a much deserved fate from a pistol bullet. On several occasions the cur has tortured the neighbors of its owner by barking and whining at nights and continuing the uproar until the appearance of daylight.

Several persons who have been pestered by the cur have openly threatened to shoot it. Last night the brute got at its favorite tricks and continued to bark until midnight, when several persons went to the home of its owner and induced him to quiet the animal. He promised to get rid of the troublesome brute without delay, and unless he does he is likely to have a dog funeral on his hands.

AFFIDAVIT FILED

Against William McHenry, Charging Him With Having Robbed E. W. Arnold.

E. W. Arnold, the man who was robbed of a watch and other articles a few days ago at Mrs. Stanton's boarding house in Locust alley, filed an affidavit in Justice Rose's court yesterday afternoon, charging William McHenry with the theft. It was reported that instead of leaving for his home in Parkersburg, as was at first supposed, McHenry was in the city, not keeping in hiding.

Officers have been searching for the accused man, but have as yet failed to locate him. It is now believed for a certainty he left here.

was shown to be correct also. Hence their decision was in the defendant's favor. The plaintiff's counsel gave notice of appeal and the arguments will be made before Justice McLane next Tuesday.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

TO BE ERECTED ADJACENT TO THE POTTERS' BANK.

It Will Be Three Stories, of Brick, And Thoroughly Up-to-Date.

Sum Added to County Tax Duplicate By Auditor Adams' Efforts.

CORPORATIONS PAY BIG

Bear More than One-Third of the Total Personal Property Today.

NEW WATERFORD MAN JAILED

Accused of Stealing $84 From a Citizen of That Town—Administrator Sued for Money—Minor Matters Before the County Courts.

Lisbon, June 28.—(Special)—J. F. Adams, the county auditor, has succeeded in having the valuation of railroad property in Columbiana county raised from $2,578,000 in 1900 to $2,861,000 for the current year.

It is the intention of the purchaser to begin work at once on the erection of a three-story brick business block on the site. The structure will be modern in every particular and when it is completed will compare favorably with any of its sort in the city. It is expected that the building can be completed within three months.

FAMILY REUNION

Of the Lindersmith, Cressinger And Willard Families Near Millport.

The twelfth reunion of the Lindersmith, Cressinger and Willard families was held yesterday one-half mile east of Millport, on the C. & P. railroad. There was a large attendance and the occasion was most enjoyable.

E. W. Lindersmith, chaplain, U. S. A., of Doylestown, O., gave a very interesting and enthusiastic address, followed by speeches by Rev. Mr. Paul of Lucerne, O.; Rev. U. T. Brown, of Amherst, Pa.; Rev. Mr. Kirkbride, of Millport, and Rev. O. D. Frederick, of Ironton.

The Cornet band of Ironton responded immediately after each address. The music was worthy of comment.

Miss Margaret Knepper and Mrs. M. Dunlap, of this city, attended.

DECLARED OFF

Unity Township Will Not Vote on the Prohibition Question Tomorrow.

New Waterford, June 28.—(Special)—The Unity township election to determine whether or not liquor shall be sold outside of this town and East Palestine and which was to have taken place tomorrow, has been called off.

The order providing for the election was rescinded because of the discovery made that the authorities had proceeded too fast in calling it, and the election, if held, was likely to be invalidated. The two years during which the law was in effect under the former election did not expire until June 24, and action was taken looking to another election, prior to that time. An effort will now be made to have the election held later, in full compliance with the terms of the law.

GOT HIS WATCH

Henry Barthel Recovers the Property Stolen From Him at Rock Springs.

Henry Barthel, the local bartender, who was robbed of a watch a few days ago while lying asleep at Rock Springs park, has recovered the missing property.

He learned the identity of the party who got the time piece and filed an affidavit against him yesterday in Justice Rose's court. When the alleged thief became apprised that he was to be arrested he returned the watch to Barthel. He told the justice he had purchased the watch, but Barthel denied the story.

Murder Verdict Reversed.

St. Clairsville, June 28.—The circuit court yesterday reversed the finding in the common pleas court, wherein Bernard Devine and Leonard Stephens were convicted of the murder of Clarence Warwick in this county a few months ago. The decision was made upon the basis of insufficient evidence.

FORMER RESIDENT

Of This City Becomes a Street Railway Magnate in Texas.

The following dispatch will be read with interest by a large number of people in this city, as one of the capitalists, C. R. Buchheit, is well known here, where he spent the most of his life:

"E. W. Davis, T. N. Barnsdall and C. R. Buchheit, of Pittsburg, closed a deal at El Paso, Tex., yesterday involving the cash investment of $500,000. The deal includes the transfer of the street car system, electric light and gas plants in El Paso, and the street concession and electric light franchise in Juarez, Mexico, one mile from El Paso."

"The company proposes to convert the six miles of mule street car lines in El Paso and two miles in Juarez into an electric system, and to extend them to the smelters and suburbs in both of the cities. It is proposed to invest $300,000 in addition to the purchase price."

Mr. Buchheit has had a remarkable career. At the beginning of the oil excitement he went to McDonald, Pa., and in less than five years made a fortune of large proportions. He has since made his headquarters in Pittsburgh, where he has been identified with many large and successful deals.

NEW WATERFORD MAN JAILED

Accused of Stealing $84 From a Citizen of That Town—Administrator Sued for Money—Minor Matters Before the County Courts.

Lisbon, June 28.—(Special)—J. F. Adams, the county auditor, has succeeded in having the valuation of railroad property in Columbiana county raised from $2,578,000 in 1900 to $2,861,000 for the current year, an increase of $283,000. All railroad property except land not used for railroad purposes is appraised as personalty, and the total personal property of the county is appraised at $8,760,000. It will be seen that the railroads pay more than one-third of the taxes on personal property in the county. For the year 1901, Wellsville will receive about $8,000 in taxes, from the C. & P. railroad; East Liverpool, about $3,500 from the same company, while the Pennsylvania company will pay about $3,000 into the coffers of Salem.

The case of I. B. Cameron, treasurer, against C. N. Schmick, formerly of Leetonia, was settled yesterday by the defendant paying $1,000 into the county treasury. The action was originally begun in common pleas court to recover $3,017 in back taxes. Common pleas court gave judgment for the defendant, but the circuit court reversed it and remanded the case to the lower court.

Al Wise, of New Waterford, charged with stealing $84 from a citizen of that town, was taken to the county jail yesterday to await the action of the grand jury.

John C. Randolph, of New Salisbury, yesterday filed action in probate court to compel Henry B. Clark, administrator of the estate of Elizabeth Randolph, to pay him $306.96, his distributive share from the estate.

The will of Joseph March, late of Madison township, was filed for probate. Practically all the personal property and the farm go to his sister, Susan March. J. B. Cofts is named as executor.

Geo. D. Smith and Mary G. Many-penny, both of East Liverpool, have been licensed to wed.

Geo. D. Worcester, of East Liverpool, and Victoria E. Okey, of Wellsville, have been granted a marriage license.

WELLSVILLE

BRIDGE AT CONGO

OPTIONS OBTAINED ON LAND FOR
PIERS AND APPROACHES.

Part of a Plan of Extensive Improvements at Newell And on the Southside.

The project of a bridge across the river to Congo has gone so far that an option has been obtained from Watson C. Johnson, of Congo, for the land that will be required for the piers and approaches to the bridge on the West Virginia shore. Mr. Johnson stated last evening that he did not know the names of the capitalists who were interested. He did not deal with them directly. He was given to understand by the persons to whom he gave the option that the money for the bridge, if it were decided to build it, would be furnished by Pittsburg parties.

Mr. Johnson admits that he does not know a great deal about the plans, but says he has reason to think that the promoters are acting in good faith and that it would be well for the business men of Wellsville to help.

It is understood that the capitalists interested in the bridge are also interested in other matters in the East Liverpool and Wellsville district. They are said to be interested in the new town of Newell, where in the last two weeks 150 building lots have been sold. This new town is part of a great plan of development, the main features of which are a bridge over the river at Wellsville, a bridge over at the west end of East Liverpool, and a trolley line on the West Virginia side of the river, connecting Wellsville and East Liverpool.

Mr. Johnson states that the capitalists interested in the proposed bridge have had engineers in this city and Congo twice looking for a suitable site for bridge. He says he was told the engineers thought the bridge should cross the river at Fourth street.

OVER THE BANK

A TORONTO MAN'S EXPERIENCE DURING A DRIVE.

Kicking Horse Landed Him and the Buggy at the Foot of a Hill.

Joseph B. Pierce, while driving from Wellsville to Toronto late Wednesday afternoon, had a very thrilling experience. He was driving a Columbian county horse, and when just below Yellow Creek postoffice, at a point where the road is narrow and runs along a precipitous bank, the animal began to kick fiercely, and Mr. Pierce, in order to save himself from injury and check the kicking horse, jumped out of the buggy, which was then half overturned. He landed on the steep bank, and went tumbling down over the hillside for a distance of thirty or forty feet before he succeeded in catching a small tree and stopping himself in his headlong career.

The horse continued its efforts to reduce the buggy to kindling wood, and before Mr. Pierce could get back up the hill the buggy had overturned and the horse, having got its foot fastened about the shafts so that it could not disentangle it, horse and buggy came tumbling over the hill after him. The small trees stopped the buggy, which was now pretty much of a wreck, and the horse went tumbling down over the bank, landing on the railroad, fifty or more feet below.

About this time Mr. Blackburn, the blacksmith at the Calumet works, came along, and with his aid Mr. Pierce, who was considerably scratched and bruised, but not otherwise seriously hurt, succeeded in getting the buggy down to the railroad and thence to a shed nearby, where it was left for repairs, and took the horse, which was seemingly not much the worse for its experience, back to Wellsville. Mr. Pierce returned home on the train.

MATHEWS-MORRIS

A Wellsville Couple Wedded at the Bride's Home—Impressive Ceremony.

Miss Lurena May Matthews, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Matthews, were married at 8 p. m. to John R. Morris, at the home of the parents on Highland avenue. The ceremony was performed in the parlor by Rev. R. H. Edwards, the rector of the Church of the Ascension. Miss Mary Noss was the bridesmaid and Fred Matthews, brother of the bride, best man. Miss Edna Morris, sister of the bridegroom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white silk, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Miss Noss, the bridesmaid, wore mull and she carried pink roses.

After the ceremony a dinner was served to the 35 guests by Mrs. Elwood Bunting. Those present from out of town were Mrs. Morris Mattox, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Matthias Eagen, of St. Louis, a sister of the bride; Mrs. John Knepper, of Carnegie, and Miss Edna Wurst, of Wyandotte, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris left on the midnight train for a lake trip. They will visit the Pan-American exposition. Upon their return they will live with the parents of the bride. Mr. Morris is employed at the rolling mill.

WIFE'S TALE OF WOE

Mrs. Frank Neal Complains of Cruel And Abusive Treatment.

Mrs. Neal, wife of Frank Neal, of 1216 Commerce street, was at the mayor's office this morning with tears in her eyes and a story of trouble. She said Neal had been drinking to excess, that he had abused her and her two young children, and that she had taken the children to the house of Jacob Wayne, a neighbor, and that she has staying there with them.

Mrs. Neal is Neal's second wife. She said by his first wife he had two children, young women now, and that he had driven them from his home by his conduct. Mrs. Neal also said that her husband seized her roughly by the arm last night and hurt her. The woman made an affidavit against her husband, and he will probably be arrested during the day.

Locked Up Again.

"Slick" Smurthwaite was locked up again yesterday afternoon for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was found helpless by Officers Madden and Thorne on Fourth street. Smurthwaite says the police arrest him not because he gets drunk, but in order to get some money out of him to help run the city.

SAME OLD GAME.

There are several concerns advertising Furniture in Magazines using the time worn "Factory Price" scheme. They tell you they sell at absolutely factory cost, in other words, they are in the business for their health. The fact is, they do not manufacture the goods at all, they buy them same as we do and cannot sell as cheap as we do, they paying the high priced Magazine advertising they do. We will be more than pleased to furnish any catalogue or magazine advertised furniture at their price, in fact we often have the identical article on our floors always for less money.

Below are a few examples. In June McClure's, page 66, the following advertisement appears:

WELLSVILLE

BRIDGE AT CONGO

OPTIONS OBTAINED ON LAND FOR
PIERS AND APPROACHES.

Part of a Plan of Extensive Improvements at Newell And on the Southside.

The project of a bridge across the river to Congo has gone so far that an option has been obtained from Watson C. Johnson, of Congo, for the land that will be required for the piers and approaches to the bridge on the West Virginia shore. Mr. Johnson stated last evening that he did not know the names of the capitalists who were interested. He did not deal with them directly. He was given to understand by the persons to whom he gave the option that the money for the bridge, if it were decided to build it, would be furnished by Pittsburgh parties.

Mr. Johnson admits that he does not know a great deal about the plans, but says he has reason to think that the promoters are acting in good faith and that it would be well for the business men of Wellsville to help.

It is understood that the capitalists interested in the bridge are also interested in other matters in the East Liverpool and Wellsville district. They are said to be interested in the new town of Newell, where in the last two weeks 150 building lots have been sold. This new town is part of a great plan of development, the main features of which are a bridge over the river at Wellsville, a bridge over at the west end of East Liverpool, and a trolley line on the West Virginia side of the river, connecting Wellsville and East Liverpool.

Mr. Johnson states that the capitalists interested in the proposed bridge have had engineers in this city and Congo twice looking for a suitable site for a bridge. He says he was told the engineers thought the bridge should cross the river at Fourth street.

OVER THE BANK

A TORONTO MAN'S EXPERIENCE DURING A DRIVE.

Kicking Horse Landed Him and the Buggy at the Foot of a Hill.

Joseph B. Pierce, while driving from Wellsville to Toronto late Wednesday afternoon, had a very thrilling experience. He was driving a Columbian county horse, and when just below Yellow Creek postoffice, at a point where the road is narrow and runs along a precipitous bank, the animal began to kick fiercely, and Mr. Pierce, in order to save himself from injury and check the kicking horse, jumped out of the buggy, which was then half overturned. He landed on the steep bank, and went tumbling down over the hillside for a distance of thirty or forty feet before he succeeded in catching a small tree and stopping himself in his headlong career.

The horse continued its efforts to reduce the buggy to kindling wood, and before Mr. Pierce could get back up the hill the buggy had overturned and the horse, having got its foot fastened about the shafts so that it could not disentangle it, horse and buggy came tumbling over the hill after him. The small trees stopped the buggy, which was now pretty much of a wreck, and the horse went tumbling down over the bank, landing on the railroad, fifty or more feet below.

About this time Mr. Blackburn, the blacksmith at the Calumet works, came along, and with his aid Mr. Pierce, who was considerably scratched and bruised, but not otherwise seriously hurt, succeeded in getting the buggy down to the railroad and thence to a shed nearby, where it was left for repairs, and took the horse, which was seemingly not much the worse for its experience, back to Wellsville. Mr. Pierce returned home on the train.

MATHEWS-MORRIS

A Wellsville Couple Wedded at the Bride's Home—Impressive Ceremony.

Miss Lurena May Matthews, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Matthews, were married at 8 p. m. to John R. Morris, at the home of the parents on Highland avenue. The ceremony was performed in the parlor by Rev. R. H. Edwards, the rector of the Church of the Ascension. Miss Mary Noss was the bridesmaid and Fred Matthews, brother of the bride, best man. Miss Edna Morris, sister of the bridegroom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white silk, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Miss Noss, the bridesmaid, wore mull and she carried pink roses.

After the ceremony a dinner was served to the 35 guests by Mrs. Elwood Bunting. Those present from out of town were Mrs. Morris Mattox, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Matthias Eagen, of St. Louis, a sister of the bride; Mrs. John Knepper, of Carnegie, and Miss Edna Wurst, of Wyandotte, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris left on the midnight train for a lake trip. They will visit the Pan-American exposition. Upon their return they will live with the parents of the bride. Mr. Morris is employed at the rolling mill.

WIFE'S TALE OF WOE

Mrs. Frank Neal Complains of Cruel And Abusive Treatment.

Mrs. Neal, wife of Frank Neal, of 1216 Commerce street, was at the mayor's office this morning with tears in her eyes and a story of trouble. She said Neal had been drinking to excess, that he had abused her and her two young children, and that she had taken the children to the house of Jacob Wayne, a neighbor, and that she has staying there with them.

Mrs. Neal is Neal's second wife. She said by his first wife he had two children, young women now, and that he had driven them from his home by his conduct. EDWIN RUTHVEN DIES

In the Electric Chair at the State Penitentiary In Columbus.

MURDERED POLICEMAN SHIPP

In Cleveland, When Found In House He Was Burglarizing—Fired Shots Through Window—Protested Innocence of Himself and Wife.

Columbus, O., June 28.—Edwin Ruthven, a negro was electrocuted in the annex at the Ohio state penitentiary about 12:05 a. m. The electrocution was successful in every detail.

The crime for which Ruthven, or Rutheben, as the commitment papers read, was electrocuted, was the murder of Police Officer Shipp, in Cleveland, on the night of May 6, 1900. Shipp and another policeman, who worked with him, discovered that the residence of a man named Leuking was being burglarized, and they closed in on the house. Shipp found the burglar in the pantry and demanded his surrender. He responded by firing two shots through the window at the officer, the first proving fatal.

Ruthven was originally sentenced to be electrocuted on March 12 last, but was three times reprieved. He was 31 years of age. He protested his innocence to the last, declaring that neither he nor his wife, who is now serving a sentence for receiving stolen goods, was guilty. But one shock was necessary, and he was pronounced dead in two minutes after the current was applied.

RAILROAD MEN'S REUNION.

Many Prominent Persons in Attendance Upon the Sessions at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, June 28.—The United Railroad Brotherhood of Harrisburg held their annual reunion. Over 1,000 railroad men from Harrisburg, Altoona and other railroad centers attended.

There were also in attendance F. M. Arthur, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Governor Stone, F. F. Clark, grand master of the Order of Railway Conductors; Lieutenant Governor Gobin; F. P. Sargent, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Adjutant General Stewart; P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Attorney General Elkin; M. M. Dolphin, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Telegraphers; Major Isaac W. Brown, chief clerk of the bureau of railroads of the internal department; Grant Brenneman, grand master of the Order of Car Repairmen of America; Frank Wilson, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trackmen.

BRITISH STEEL MAKERS UNDERBID BY U. S. COMBINE.

New York, June 28.—Staffordshire consumers are receiving offers from London brokers on behalf of the United States Steel corporation of Bessemer billets in 1,000 and 2,000-ton lots at £5 a ton delivered in England. Under present rates of exchange this means under $24.50 a ton delivered. The ruling English price for billets is more than $28 a ton, so that the American figure is 12½ per cent under that of the British.

Discussion as to Prize Money.
Washington, June 28.—Justice Bradley, of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, sitting in equity court, decided that Rear Admiral Sampson is entitled to prize money for the capture of the Spanish squadron off Santiago, and that Admiral Dewey is entitled to prize money for the ships he sank in Manila bay. One-half of the value of these vessels is to be distributed among the officers and men of those squadrons. The judge decided that Admiral Dewey is not entitled to prize money for naval stores captured at Cavite arsenal.

Owes His Life to Neighbor's Kindness
Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea, was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than 24 hours. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

Owes His Life to Neighbor's Kindness

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea, was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than 24 hours. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

DEMOCRATIC CRITICS.

Our Democratic brethren are not satisfied with the platform drafted and adopted by the Ohio Republican convention. It was not to be expected that they would be. There would be numerous fatal defects in any Republican platform that the Ohio Democracy would approve and endorse. But, when they come down to particulars, our friends the enemy profess to be chiefly grieved because a large part of the Ohio platform is devoted to national issues. Well, what would they have?

Ohio is a considerable part of the nation and cuts no inconspicuous figure in the sisterhood of states. Ohio people are interested in the affairs of the nation and Ohio's sons play a distinguished part therein. The next general assembly will elect a United States senator, and the coming campaign is certainly national to that extent. The eyes of the nation are on Ohio, and for the Republicans of this state to avoid a discussion of national issues, either in the platform or on the stump, would be cowardly and weak, and neither the politicians nor the people of the Buckeye state are built that way.

As for state issues, what issues are there save that of good government? And the party is pledged to that, and the affairs of the commonwealth were never better administered than they are today, by Republican officeholders. The Republican platform suits Ohio Republicans, and they will live up to it. It was not built to suit Democrats. The fact that they don't like it is strong testimony in its favor.

SECRETARY HAY.

Semi-official announcement comes from Washington that the rumors of Secretary Hay's probable retirement from the cabinet are untrue and that Mr. Hay will remain at the head of the state department until the close of President McKinley's administration. It is to be hoped that the report is true and that Mr. Hay is in the cabinet to stay at least until 1905. He is a trained and experienced diplomat and in dealing with manifold difficult problems which have arisen in the past few years he has shown statesmanship of the highest order. Few secretaries of state have had greater problems to solve, and he has handled all of them in a way that has met the applause of the people of the United States and won the admiration of the nations with which he has had to deal. Secretary Hay is a tower of strength to the administration, and every patriot will be glad to see him remain where he is.

LET US HAVE STREET SIGNS.

What has become of those street signs, which the city was to place at corners for the guidance of strangers? Nobody has seen them yet, and we are not aware that council has made any move toward providing them. Yet there is not a councilman, a city officer, or a private citizen who will not admit that they are needed. Thousands of strangers visit the city annually, and nine-tenths of them usually desire to find some particular locality. With no street signs to guide them, they are likely to pass and repass the very spot they are in search of without discovering it. The absence of signs is bewildering and annoying. The signs need not be expensive; the chief requirement is that they be durable and readable. Citizens would appreciate the information they would give; for, owing to the rapid extension of the city in every direction, there are comparatively few residents who know all the thoroughfares by name. It is certainly time that we ceased to resemble a country village in this respect. Give us the signs; they are a necessity. Economize on something else that is less needed.

Jay Reed's paper, the Irondale Courier Weekly, which was for a time a part of the Steubenville Press syndicate, has emerged from the "trust" and is going it alone. It may not look as pretty as it did, but it has more home news than formerly, and that is what is appreciated in a local paper. Mr. Reed's energetic efforts deserve rich rewards.

It is announced that Oom Paul Kruger is coming to America to lecture in the fall. He can tell us a whole lot of things, but it is safe to wager that he can't tell us when the Boers are going to drive the British out of Africa.

Pennsylvania, having got rid of her legislature, will celebrate Independence day with zeal and enthusiasm.

The undrenched picnic is a decided rarity.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Bridget Reilly.

Mrs. Bridget Reilly, widow of the late James Reilly, died at her home on Franklin street at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon of paralysis. The lady was 66 years old and has been a resident of East Liverpool for the past 16 years, having come to this country from Donegal, Ireland, in 1885. Mrs. Reilly's husband died in Ireland more than 25 years ago. She leaves four children, Joseph, James and William Reilly and Mrs. Frank Densmore. Mrs. Reilly was a most estimable lady and was highly respected. The funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 8:30 tomorrow morning, and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

CENTENARIAN DEAD

Mrs. McKeever, of Mercer County, Pa., Said to Have Been 110 Years Old.

Sharon, Pa., June 28.—Mrs. Susan McKeever died yesterday at her residence in Jefferson township, Mercer county, aged 110 years. She was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to America about 1811, settling in Philadelphia with her husband. They bought a farm in this county over 70 years ago. Her husband died at the age of 90 years, and Mrs. McKeever has lived with her son, who is blind, ever since.

She was a member of the Mercer Catholic church, and until a short time ago attended services regularly. She had never been seriously ill previous to her last sickness. She is survived by one son and several grand and great-grandchildren in this place.

Gleanings In And About A Day

The Local Potteries.

The clay hands at the Burford pottery are off duty today under very peculiar circumstances. The regular engineer at that plant has been ill for several days, and during his absence the duties have been performed by an inexperienced employee. This morning when the time arrived for starting the machinery the engine refused to work and despite all efforts on the part of the workmen remained inactive. The employees all went home, and not long afterward it was discovered that the gas was not turned on in the cylinder, and it was not strange that the machinery could not be started.

John Kennedy yesterday resigned his position as printer at the Sevres China company. He left this morning for Buffalo, where he will spend several days. From Buffalo he will go to Ford City, where he has accepted a similar position with the Ford City Pottery company.

William Curry, employed at the Thompson pottery, has been the victim of several jokes played on him by his fellow workmen recently. Curry has been telling about his good ball playing and Tuesday they got him out to practice. He had not been in the game very long until a bucketful of slop was thrown from one of the windows and he received a bath. He did not appreciate the joke and says he will not play ball any more around the pottery.

The reason for the early shutdown at the Brunt pottery was the refusal of a number of the boys employed at that plant to continue until the time

JEFFERSON DEMOCRATS

Named a Ticket After Several Who Had Been Nominated Had Declined.

Steubenville, June 28.—The Jefferson county Democratic convention yesterday endorsed Kilbourne for governor. The greatest difficulty the convention experienced was in getting persons to allow the use of their names as candidates on the county ticket. William Strayer and Frank Burns both declined the nomination for sheriff, as did James Stevenson for treasurer. Robert Howerter and Dr. O'Connell were both named for auditor, but final action was deferred until they could be waited on.

W. G. Bell and James Branagan also declined the nomination for sheriff, and after some considerable figuring around among the brethren C. B. O'Connell, of East Springfield, was put on the ticket. Following is the ticket nominated: Representative, John G. Ickis, of York; auditor, Dr. W. J. O'Connell, of Mingo; coroner, John Loomer, of Steubenville; treasurer James W. Stevenson, of Richmond; sheriff, C. B. O'Connell, of Salem; commissioner, W. A. Strayer, of Cross Creek.

The delegates elected were as follows: Bartley Foley, John Caniff, John Ovington, D. A. Aultman, D. J. Quinn, James Gilday and John McKee, all of Steubenville.

LOST SON FOUND

Supposed Johnstown Flood Victim Alive And Well at Youngstown.

Youngstown, June 28.—John Smith, of Dayton, found a son here yesterday whom he supposed was lost in the Johnstown flood 11 years ago. Smith, his wife and 3-year-old son resided in Johnstown at the time of the flood, and the father supposed the boy was lost with his mother.

A few weeks ago he heard that his son had escaped, and the search resulted most successfully when young Smith, now a sturdy youth of 14, met his father. The boy was adopted by Rufus Price, a farmer near this city, and a visit by a Dayton man to the Price homestead furnished the clew which led to the happy reunion.

An Independence Day Folly.

At a Fourth of July picnic were passed around to the company wooden plates of generous dinner plate size. On these were pasted various odd shaped pieces of red, white and blue paper. These, it was explained, were intended to represent in their general outline the maps of the 13 original states as they now appeared, and with them, to avoid the unlucky number, was also a map of Cuba. At the top of each, instead of its name, was printed a number. Pencils were distributed, and the guests were given half an hour to guess the identity of the maps, the names of which were to be written on the backs of the plates. The couple most successful in this were each presented with an immense cannon firecracker, which, however, was not as dangerous as it seemed at first sight, for it was nothing worse than a clever imitation of the real thing filled with bonbons.—Alice Carlotta Wheeler in Woman's Home Companion.

John Kennedy yesterday resigned his position as printer at the Sevres China company. He left this morning for Buffalo, where he will spend several days. From Buffalo he will go to Ford City, where he has accepted a similar position with the Ford City Pottery company.

Miss Lewis, a ware dresser at the Liverpool pottery, was overcome with the heat while at work yesterday and was taken to her home on Seventh street very ill. She is somewhat improved today, although not yet able to return to work.

William Curry, employed at the Thompson pottery, has been the victim of several jokes played on him by his fellow workmen recently. Curry has been telling about his good ball playing and Tuesday they got him out to practice. He had not been in the game very long until a bucketful of slop was thrown from one of the windows and he received a bath. He did not appreciate the joke and says he will not play ball any more around the pottery.

The reason for the early shutdown at the Brunt pottery was the refusal of a number of the boys employed at that plant to continue until the time decided upon by the firm. According to the statement of several heads of departments there the youngsters will be permitted to take a longer loaf than they had bargained for.

An Independence Day Frolic.

At a Fourth of July picnic were passed around to the company wooden plates of generous dinner plate size. On these were pasted various odd shaped pieces of red, white and blue paper. These, it was explained, were intended to represent in their general outline the maps of the 13 original states as they now appeared, and with them, to avoid the unlucky number, was also a map of Cuba. At the top of each, instead of its name, was printed a number. Pencils were distributed, and the guests were given half an hour to guess the identity of the maps, the names of which were to be written on the backs of the plates. The couple most successful in this were each presented with an immense cannon firecracker, which, however, was not as dangerous as it seemed at first sight, for it was nothing worse than a clever imitation of the real thing filled with bonbons.—Alice Carlotta Wheeler in Woman's Home Companion.

HOT POLITICAL FIGHT

On Municipal and State Officials
Inaugurated at Philadelphia.

TELEGRAM FROM C. E. SMITH.

Postmaster General, Created Great Enthusiasm—Col. A. K. McClure Severe In His Denunciation—Rev. Dr. McCook and Others Spoke.

Philadelphia, June 28.—What promises to be one of the fiercest political wars ever waged in this city was inaugurated at the Academy of Music last night, when about 5,000 citizens in two meetings nominated District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., to be a candidate for the office of district attorney against the candidacy of John Weaver, who was nominated for that office last week by the Republican organization of this city. The Academy of Music was crowded and thousands were unable to enter the building to hear well-known Philadelphians arraign the present city administration, as well as the state officials. Present among the participants of last night's demonstration were Colonel A. K. McClure, the retired editor of the Philadelphia Times, a staunch Democrat; William S. Stenger, secretary of the commonwealth under Governor Pattison; former District Attorney George S. Graham, a Republican; ex-Postmaster John Field, and others not so widely known. In the audience were ex-Sheriff Clement, James Pollock and many other men known in local politics. A telegram from Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith was read, which created unbounded enthusiasm. It was as follows:

Contents of Smith's Telegram.

"Can you use my name as a vice president? It is time for a new declaration of independence. Philadelphia ought to rise in her might against jobbers in her public rights and the ravishing of her sacred safeguards of law."

Colonel A. K. McClure said, in part, that the purpose of the meeting was to protect the citizens from organized crime on the part of the public officials. District Attorney Rothermel, he said, was nominated by the Republican organization about three years ago and elected. Now this same organization, controlled by the same men, refuse him another term. They have named a man, he continued, who is untried and an unknown quantity. Mr. Rothermel sent to prison ballot box thieves, the masters of whom are the political leaders of the city today. He had also made it so uncomfortable for others of the same stripe that they are living in distant lands and cannot come home until Mr. Rothermel is out of office. That is the reason, he said, why Mr. Rothermel was not named.

Colonel McClure spoke of how the street railway bills were rushed through the legislature and how the governor had signed them at a "convenient hour, so that the 'gang's' representatives could be first at the door the next morning to get charters." He also told how the mayor had asked for bids on a loan of $9,000,000 and only $5,000 was subscribed for. He said the credit of the city was unquestionable, but the authorities of Philadelphia could not be trusted. The "machine," he continued, had control of the United States senators, the governor, the legislature, the mayor, the city councils, and they felt invincible; but two things menaced them, an honest district attorney and an honest judiciary. To wipe this out, he said, the Republican leaders created a new court and placed on the bench appointees of the governor, and now they propose to get possession of the district attorney's office. He hoped that the new judges would be true to their oaths.

Other addresses were made by former District Attorney Graham, ex-Postmaster Field, Franke Leake, Rev. Dr. Henry McCook and others.

Contents of Resolutions Adopted.

The following resolutions were read and adopted:

Whereas, Insolently despotic and criminally profligate political power, embracing banded corruptionists of both the great political parties, has usurped the authority of the people in both the city and state; ran riot in franchise gifts and appropriations to favorites, involving the loss of many millions to the taxpayers; created offices and officers not needed or demanded by the people; and practically proclaimed that the public prosecutor, who should stand like adamant between the community and the mastery of crime, must be obedient to the orders of political masters; and

Whereas, District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., has been ostentatiously rejected for renomination solely because of his unswerving devotion to his sacred public duties; therefore,

Resolved, That the people of Philadelphia, in mass meeting of overwhelming numbers assembled, hereby nominate District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., for re-election, because of the masterly ability, unfaltering integrity, and tireless fidelity he has uniformly exhibited in protecting the public against crime; and we appeal to the considerate judgment of every good citizen to support our prosecuting officers whose overthrow is demanded by organized criminal profligacy and debauchery.

The next resolution provides for appointment of a committee of nine to conduct the contest, confer with reform organizations, in completing a ticket, etc.

SOUTH SIDE

BUSY SESSION

HELD BY CHESTER COUNCIL AND MANY MATTERS UP.

Bell Telephone Franchise Question Deferred—Severe Penalties for Illegal Liquor Selling.

Chester council held a brief and quiet session last evening. All the members were present and also Solicitor Marshall.

The first thing up for discussion was the granting of a franchise to the C. D. & P. Telephone company. It was decided to defer the matter until the next meeting.

The privilege to post bills exclusively was let to John Boulton for the consideration of $20.

Councilman Riley, of the police committee, reported that the police badges and other supplies had been ordered and were expected to arrive this week.

The discussion of "Dewey" lake occupied considerable time, but as Solicitor Marshall gave it as his opinion that the city would be liable for any damages to private property resulting from this pond of water the street committee and Road Supervisor Pugh were instructed to abate the nuisance in the way that in their judgment seemed best.

Upon a request from Chief Allison council placed the pay for extra policeman at $1.75 per day. No compensation had as yet been set.

An ordinance was passed which imposed a fine of from $5 to $100 upon any person convicted of illegally selling liquor, and at the discretion of the court a jail sentence of from five to 30 days. The councilmen are of the opinion that this will have a deterrent effect on the running of speakeasies.

An ordinance regulating the garbage nuisance and imposing penalties was passed.

The franchise ordinance of the Columbian County Telephone company passed first reading.

The town officers secured the building of John Shrader on Virginia avenue, which will be used for the present for a city building.

LARGE, ORDERLY CROWD

Came to the First Ward, Pittsburgh, School Picnic at the Park.

The people who attended the picnic of the First ward schools of Pittsburgh at Rock Springs park yesterday, were very orderly. Only one fight took place at the park and that was between the visitors. One young man, accused of making "goo goo eyes" at another's girl, was called down.

Words ended in a mixup and the fellow who made the eyes was getting the best of the other when five of his friends appeared on the scene. They went to his assistance and knocking the other down kicked him in the face several times. Officers were summoned, but peace was patched up and the young men were hustled out of the park.

The crowd was a large one, and a prominent Pittsburg business man is reported to have borne a large share of the expense for tickets and entertainment.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Three special cars conveyed the Sunday school children of the Second U. P. church of East End to the Rock Springs park today, where they joined the Sunday school children from the First U. P. church and the Chester chapel in their annual outing.

THE LINE IS BUSY

Telephone Subscribers Often Told So, And the Statement Is True Enough.

Patrons of the Columbian County Telephone lines are beginning to complain of the out-of-town service. Business men say, no matter how great their haste nor how important their message, it is almost impossible during certain hours of the day, to get a chance to talk with people outside the city. Call up Lisbon, Salem or Wellsville, and the answer almost invariably comes, "The line is busy."

This is not surprising, considering the amount of business that passes over the toll lines from East Liverpool. There are five of these lines leading from this city—two to Salem two to Wellsville and one to Lisbon. East Liverpool generally receives about 700 calls in a day and sends out over 1,000. "The line is busy," and no mistake. There is a strong effort to be made on the part of business men to have the service improved and more lines added, so that a half dozen calls will not be necessary to reach an out-of-town subscriber.

EAST END

TREASURE FROM

Valuable Old Coins Found in the Wall of an Old House at Calcutta.

George Rudibaugh, who is employed by R. A. Orin, of the East End, made an unusual discovery while tearing down a very old house at Calcutta. He found a rusty metal box in a part of the wall near the foundation which contained a number of valuable coins, some of which dated as far back as 1790. They were of copper and silver and were not of much value except for their antiquity.

The find has caused no little talk among the residents of the village, as the house which he is tearing down is a very old brick structure, the date of its erection being before the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Not a little speculation is indulged in as to who probably hid the peculiar box in the wall of the building.

JUDGMENT FOR 50 CENTS

In a Case Tried Before Justice Carman in the East End.

In the case of Henry Twiford against William Robinson, heard in Justice Carman's court yesterday afternoon, judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of 50 cents and costs. Twiford sued to recover $1 damages for a broken window which was caused by a stone thrown by Norman, the minor son of William Robinson. Two neighbor ladies were examined as witnesses and also several other persons who attended the trial. Some interesting family affairs were aired in the court, after which the trouble was adjusted.

HORSE SUNSTRUCK

Animal Belonging to Contractor McLaughlin Succumbed and Died.

A horse belonging to Contractor John McLaughlin died from the effects of a sunstroke about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The team became overheated and both horses were sick. Veterinary Surgeon McFarland was called from the city and made an effort to revive the horse which was prostrated, working with it from about noon until the animal died. The team was used by the workmen who are paving Pennsylvania avenue.

Boys' Camping Club.

A number of East End boys have formed a camping club and are now spending their spare time on the river shore above the residence of James Martin. George Nelson is president of the organization and Alvin Hartzell is secretary. The boys will keep their tent pitched here during the remainder of the summer and will spend their evenings at the various amusements of the camping club.

Funeral of a Child.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, which died yesterday, was buried at 1 o'clock today. Rev. G. W. Orcutt conducted the funeral services at the home on Elmwood street.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

George Adams will spend the Fourth at Xenia.

Mrs. W. A. Orin is very ill with heart trouble.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Smith, of Calhoun addition, a boy.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Malcolm, of Dixonville, a girl.

Bert Hershner left today for Findlay, O., where he will spend the Fourth.

Harvey Wallace, of St. George street, is in Pittsburg on business today.

Gambel & Surles are opening a new clay bank near the brick yard at Lake's hollow.

John Miller, of the city proper, has moved into the residence in Dixonville vacated by Mrs. Frank Riley.

Roma, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Henderson, of First avenue, is very ill with nervous trouble.

Mrs. Charles Herbert has returned to the East End after a month's visit with friends at Salem, Sebring and Youngstown.

Mrs. Frank Riley has moved her household effects from her residence in Dixonville to her former home in the East End.

Mrs. William Tice left this morning for Washington county, O., where she will remain for some time visiting at her former home.

Dr. F. F. Davis has taken his sick child to visit with relatives in Beaver county. The baby was seriously ill when he left the East End yesterday morning.

Will Andrews, of First avenue, is confined to the house suffering with a sore on his left leg. It was lanced by the doctor last evening and it is thought he will be able to be out soon.

MUST CLOSE SUNDAYS.

Parkersburg Mayor Orders Unnecessary Selling Discontinued In That Place.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 28.—The indications are that Parkersburg will not only have dry Sundays henceforth, but quiet ones as well. A communication was sent to Chief of Police Landslide by Mayor Vandervort instructing him that the Sunday laws would have to be more strictly enforced.

The chief was instructed to have his men inform all persons in the habit of keeping their business houses open on Sunday that they must do so hereafter. An effort will be made to stop all Sunday business of whatever kind. In the communication meat stores, fruit stores and similar places are mentioned, notice is given that bootblacks must not ply their trade on the streets, and it is specifically mentioned that the only exception to the closing rule will be restaurants and drug stores, which only put up prescriptions. It is further stated that it is found that any of the saloons are selling on Sunday in violation of the law their licenses will be taken away from them.

If the new regulations are enforced it will make a very radical change in present conditions.

YALE BEAT HARVARD.

Won Varsity Boat Race by Less Than a Length.

New London, Conn., June 28.—Yale won the Varsity race with Harvard by less than a length in the last 100 yards of the four-mile struggle.

Harvard got the best of the start and was slightly ahead in the first mile, then Yale pulled to the front. Harvard spurted and the boats were even. Then the crimson shell was a bit ahead, and at the three-mile mark it seemed as if Harvard would be victorious, but the awful pace was telling on the Cambridge boat. Yale came up alongside again, and down the long line between rows of yachts that扁了 the line it was absolutely an even thing. In the last quarter of a mile Yale hit up the stroke again, and a hundred yards from the finish the nose of the New Haven shell was poked perceptibly to the front. Harvard was unable to respond again to the frantic call of her coxswain, and the blue was a winner.

The official time—Yale, 23:37; Harvard, 23:45.

EAST ENDTREASURE FROM

Valuable Old Coins Found in the Wall of an Old House at Calcutta.

George Rudibaugh, who is employed by R. A. Orin, of the East End, made an unusual discovery while tearing down a very old house at Calcutta. He found a rusty metal box in a part of the wall near the foundation which contained a number of valuable coins, some of which dated as far back as 1790. They were of copper and silver and were not of much value except for their antiquity.

The find has caused no little talk among the residents of the village, as the house which he is tearing down is a very old brick structure, the date of its erection being before the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Not a little speculation is indulged in as to who probably hid the peculiar box in the wall of the building.

JUDGMENT FOR 50 CENTS

In a Case Tried Before Justice Carman In the East End.

In the case of Henry Twiford against William Robinson, heard in Justice Carman's court yesterday afternoon, judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of 50 cents and costs. Twiford sued to recover $1 damages for a broken window which was caused by a stone thrown by Norman, the minor son of William Robinson. Two neighbor ladies were examined as witnesses and also several other persons who attended the trial. Some interesting family affairs were aired in the court, after which the trouble was adjusted.

HORSE SUNSTRUCK

Animal Belonging to Contractor McLaughlin Succumbed and Died.

A horse belonging to Contractor John McLaughlin died from the effects of a sunstroke about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The team became overheated and both horses were sick. Veterinary Surgeon McFarland was called from the city and made an effort to revive the horse which was prostrated, working with it from about noon until the animal died. The team was used by the workmen who are paving Pennsylvania avenue.

Boys' Camping Club.
A number of East End boys have formed a camping club and are now spending their spare time on the river shore above the residence of James Martin. George Nelson is president of the organization and Alvin Hartzell is secretary. The boys will keep their tent pitched here during the remainder of the summer and will spend their evenings at the various amusements of the camping club.

Funeral of a Child.
The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, which died yesterday, was buried at 1 o'clock today. Rev. G. W. Orcutt conducted the funeral services at the home on Elmwood street.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

George Adams will spend the Fourth at Xenia.

Mrs. W. A. Orin is very ill with heart trouble.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Smith, of Calhoun addition, a boy.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Malcolm, of Dixonville, a girl.

Bert Hershner left today for Findlay, O., where he will spend the Fourth.

Harvey Wallace, of St. George street, is in Pittsburg on business to-day.

Gambel & Surles are opening a new clay bank near the brick yard at Lake's hollow.

John Miller, of the city proper, has moved into the residence in Dixonville vacated by Mrs. Frank Riley.

Roma, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Henderson, of First avenue, is very ill with nervous trouble.

Mrs. Charles Herbert has returned to the East End after a month's visit with friends at Salem, Sebring and Youngstown.

Mrs. Frank Riley has moved her household effects from her residence in Dixonville to her former home in the East End.

Mrs. William Tice left this morning for Washington county, O., where she will remain for some time visiting at her former home.

Dr. F. F. Davis has taken his sick child to visit with relatives in Beaver.

county. The baby was seriously ill when he left the East End yesterday morning.

Will Andrews, of First avenue, is confined to the house suffering with a sore on his left leg. It was lanced by the doctor last evening and it is thought he will be able to be out soon.

MUST CLOSE SUNDAYS.

Parkersburg Mayor Orders Unnecessary Selling Discontinued In That Place.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 28.—The indications are that Parkersburg will not have dry Sundays henceforth, but quiet ones are well. A communication was sent to Chief of Police Landslide by Mayor Vandervort instructing him that the Sunday laws would have to be more strictly enforced.

The chief was instructed to have his men inform all persons in the habit of keeping their business houses open on Sunday that they must not do so hereafter. An effort will be made to stop all Sunday business of whatever kind.

In the communication meat stores, fruit stores and similar places are mentioned, notice is given that bootblacks must not ply their trade on the streets, and it is specifically mentioned that the only exceptions to the closing rule will be restaurants and drug stores, which only put up prescriptions. It is further stated that it is found that many of the saloons are selling on Sunday in violation of the law their licenses will be taken away from them. If the new regulations are enforced it will make a very radical change in present conditions.

YALE BEAT HARVARD.

Won 'Varsity Boat Race by Less Than a Length.

New London, Conn., June 28.—Yale won the 'Varsity race with Harvard by less than a length in the last 109 yards of the four-mile struggle.

Harvard got the best of the start and was slightly ahead in the first mile, then Yale pulled to the front. Harvard spurred and the boats were even. Then the crimson shell was a bit ahead, and at the three-mile mark it seemed as if Harvard would be victorious, but the awful pace was telling on the Cambridge boat. Yale came up alongside again, and down the long line between rows of yachts that flanked the line it was absolutely an even thing. In the last quarter of a mile Yale hit up the stroke again, and a hundred yards from the finish the nose of the New Haven shell was poked perceptibly to the front. Harvard was unable to respond again to the frantic call of her coxswain, and the blue was a winner.

The official time—Yale, 23:37; Harvard, 23:45.

CHAPTER IV.—Continued.

The tableau lasted only an instant, but it was a fraction of time that was fraught with tremendous excitement. Then Lisle's free hand dropped to his holsters. It leaped up again, the arm straightened out and stiffened with deadly aim, there was a loud report, and Jim Cummings pitched headlong from his saddle to the earth. His horse, frightened, started away. Lisle would have been dragged down and killed even then had not his right arm been free. He dropped the pistol and seized the reins, digging the spurs into Thompson's horse, chasing the other, and riding thus madly he succeeded in thrusting his one free hand into one of his pockets. When he drew it forth it contained a clasp knife. He opened the blade with his teeth and cut the rope.

While the cowboys were cheering and throwing their sombreros into the air, firing their pistols and otherwise testifying to their joy and relieving the pressure of suspense under which they had labored, Craig Thompson rode out to Lisle and met him.

"Kid," he said, and his voice was husky with emotion, "I'm proud of you! Hang me if I ain't! Just make a speech to them fellers now, short and to the point."

But Lisle scarcely heard him. He entered to the center of the ground and raised his right arm to enjoin silence. When it was achieved, he rose in his stirrups and turned his head slowly from side to side until he took in all who were there. Then he spoke in a clear, ringing voice which every one heard.

"If there is any other person here who thinks that I was cut out for a woman and spoiled in the making, now is the time to speak," he said. Dead silence followed his words, and after waiting sufficient time he raised his hat, saluted them all and entered to his father's side. But the only words that greeted him where he expected the greatest praise was the calm announcement:

"We will take the trail in an hour, Lisle. See that you are ready. You may invite Mr. Thompson to accompany us if he cares to do so." And then without a word in reference to the combat Richard Maxwell mounted his horse and rode away.

CHAPTER V. CRAIG THOMPSON'S WISDOM.

CRAIG THOMPSON did wish to go. The fact was unprecedented in the experience that others had known of him, but it was true, and when at the close of the second day they arrived at the ranch Lisle remembered with surprise that he had never known his father to be so companionable with a stranger before, but in this case he had appeared to find much that was congenial in their tastes. It is possible that his own intense love for Lisle permitted him more readily to appreciate the good qualities of another who also loved him. It may be that he intuitively foresaw the time when Lisle would need a friend and that he discovered in Thompson the man whom he would select for that position.

Thompson's ranch adjoined Maxwell's, although 30 miles separated the buildings which the respective owners called home. In that land of magnificent distances such an interval of space was trivial, but Richard Maxwell had always isolated himself from his neighbors in a way that utterly repelled friendly advances, so that he was known more as a ranch owner than as a man, but now he volunteered every outward demonstration that he desired to create more friendly relations with his nearest neighbor.

During the journey to the ranch Lisle's father permitted it to be understood that he preferred that no reference should be made to the lasso duel. He seemed to have blotted it out of his memory as utterly as though it had not occurred.

At home the old life was taken up where it had been left off, and with the exception of the presence of a guest and within the memory of Lisle an invited guest had never before been a part of the household—it was the same as it had always been. Studies were resumed at the point where they had been abandoned, occupations recommenced where they had broken off, and everything resumed its accustomed routine, for the master of Crescent and Cross never permitted anything to interfere with the rules of his daily life.

But the week of Thompson's stay came to an end, and Lisle was surprised when he remembered that during the entire time he had rarely been alone with their guest—never, in fact, except at such times as they passed upon the broad veranda, where the old frontiersman loved to sit and smoke and chat with the "kid," interspersing his stories and anecdotes with wholesome advice that was always given in this inimitably blunt and forcible manner. Lisle was often astonished by the deep learning of the strange man, whose customary disregard of correct English was at once a mixture of assumption and carelessness. The youth's intuition revealed to him that behind and beneath the rough exterior of his new friend there existed a fund of tenderness and sympathy most profound. He was like a lump of rich quartz—the intrinsic value was all there incased within the roughest and hardest of substances.

On the other hand Craig also met with surprises which puzzled him greatly, although he made no comment unless to Lisle in person. One of them came during an evening when Richard Maxwell was not present. Craig was smoking his pipe on the veranda, lolling back in one of the comfortable chairs, when he heard the piano.

"That's right, boy," he called out. "I'm in just the mood for some music. Couldn't you sing something for a change?"

There was no reply in words, but the melody changed, and presently a superb voice, in tender contralto, floated out to him. With increasing power it swelled into the pathetic air of Asher's "Alice" until the clear high notes swept out across the starlit plain so sweetly, so purely, so longingly that Craig forgot his pipe, forgot Lisle, forgot where he was, forgot everything except a memory that the song conjured up. His head sank lower and lower upon his breast, tears stood in his eyes and splashed unheeded upon his tightly clasped hands, and when the melody ceased he did not move. Lisle left the piano and went out to him, but Craig Thompson was not aware of his approach until he felt a touch upon his shoulder.

Then he started up with a cry as one who has been rudely awakened from a dream.

"Come here, boy," he said in a tone that shook with emotion. "I want to look at you. Who taught you that song? Who gave you that voice? What strange mixture are you?"

"Craig," said Lisle in surprise, not heeding the questions, "what is the matter? Are those tears in your eyes—tears because I sang to you?"

"Yes, they're tears. Do you think that I am ashamed of them? Men shed tears only when they are necessary to keep the heart from bursting. Mine burst long ago, but somehow I got it together again, and maybe the cement I used wears a little with time. Anyhow, that song of yours opened a seam or two in the old wound. That song brings back memories, and memories are pizzi things to have around if they ain't just the sort that a feller wants. Who taught you that song?"

"Nobody. I learned it myself. It came with some music that father ordered years ago. He does not like it. I never sing it to him. I have not sung it before in a long time. I do not know why I thought of it tonight."

"I do. It was just my heart speaking to yours, Lisle. Will you be offended, boy, if I tell you that you have got a voice like a woman's—just like the voice of a woman whom I used to know, the sweetest and best woman who ever lived? She was my sister, Lisle, and she used to sing that song to me. I liked it because her name was Alice, like the song. It's a good many years since I saw her, Lisle, and I don't know whether she is alive or dead. Don't you see, kid, why my callous old heart filled up with tears so that it would have burst if I hadn't shed a few?"

"I am sorry, Craig, very sorry, that I selected that song."

"Don't you be sorry; be glad. It saved me from one of my fits, for one of 'em has been coming on ever since I have been here."

"Shall I sing something else for you?"

"No; don't sing; don't play. I don't want to get the taste of that one out of my mouth. Sit here and talk with me. We won't have another evening together for a long time—maybe never."

"Why do you say that?"

"I'm going to light out in the morning before that fit comes on. You think I am older than your father, don't you?"

"I should say that you are, by several years."

"Well, I reckon I am in some ways. It comes of having fits, I suppose, but Dick Maxwell is five years older than I am. He's 48 or thereabout, according to his say. I look about 58, but I'm only 43. Do you know what I am getting at?"

"No."

"This: I'm preaching, lad. Every one of those years that rest on my head without having come into my life was put there by a piece of soundrelism that I committed when I was just the age that you are now, and I hadn't any more excuse for getting into it than you have now either. I don't say that you'll ever get into a place where you may be likely to do anything that ain't right, but if you do there will be time to think—there always is for thinking is mighty quick work—and if that time ever does come you remember what I have said just now and stop long enough to hum that song over to yourself before you cut loose from the outfit and go it alone. Life ain't going to be all roses for you, Lisle Maxwell, and don't you forget it! Your father hasn't brought you up right, to my way of thinking. You needn't get buffy. I ain't criticizing him. I'm analyzing you. You don't know any more about the world outside of this ranch than a

You can't throw a loop over circumstance and drag it along a willing captive, like we did that steer. It's got a way of slipping out and roping you instead, and you've got to post yourself about things so that you will be ready to keep one hand out in just about the same way that you poked yours through the loop of Jim Cummings' riata over in the Smoky. I don't wonder that some of the boys have said that you look like a woman. You do, and you do not. You do because you have got a tender heart, like a woman's, and it sticks out through your masculine garb just as plain as daylight when you ain't thinking. Dick Maxwell has trained you right enough as far as he has gone, for all I know, but he's a good ways from going far enough. I want you to make me a promise, Lisle."

WILL ABIDE BY THE LAW.

Leader of West Virginia Strikers So Asserted—Said That Shooting Was by Kentuckians.

Thacker, W. Va., June 28.—Marshal A. C. Hufford and Sheriff Greenway Hatfield, who arrived here, stated positively that the reports of their having been fired upon from ambush and that the railroad station here was riddled with bullets while the officers were waiting for a train recently were incorrect. Not a shot was fired at the deputy while serving notices of the injunction on the strikers or at any time.

C. W. Burke, leader of the strikers, who has temporary headquarters here, said the strike came about from the opposition of Superintendent Lambert to the miners' union. The shooting of last week was done, he declared, by Kentuckians, and not by strikers. When asked if the eviction of tenants would be met with resistance, Mr. Burke replied:

"No; the union men will follow out its policy of abiding by the law and make no resistance. We are getting $1,000 a week from the United Mine Workers of America, and all the men are in fairly good shape to stand a long period of idleness if necessary. If we have to camp on the mountains for five years there can be no compromise in this affair."

THE POPE WAS REPORTED ILL.

Such a Dispatch Said to Have Reached a Paris Paper.

Paris, June 28.—A dispatch to the Petit Bleu from Rome announces the pope to be seriously ill and says that Dr. Lappom, his attending physician, does not leave the pontiff's bedside. Vatican officials are anxious concerning the pope's health.

BARKER SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

Jersey City, June 28.—Judge Blair sentenced Thomas G. Barker to state's prison for five years at hard labor for attempting to kill Rev. John Keller at Arlington, Feb. 3. Barker's counsel, after the sentence, filed a notice of appeal. This will act as a stay. Pending the decision on the appeal Barker may be admitted to bail.

POLITICAL MATTERS

The nomination of ex-Senator William E. Miller, of Licking, by the Democrats of the Fifteenth and Sixteenth district at New Lexington was quite a surprise, and the result lifts Colonel W. T. Morton, Zanesville, out of politics. Morton came into some prominence at the meeting of the Democratic state committee, when, at the instance of Harry Alexander, of the Signal, he was made a member of the state executive committee.

While no official announcement has been made, it seems to be the understanding that General Dick will again take charge of the Ohio campaign, with John R. Malloy as secretary. At the meeting of the state central committee in Columbus on Saturday it is possible the matter will be officially determined. The date of the opening of the campaign will also be discussed at that conference.

Down in Pickaway county the Democrats have about made up their minds that it is about time to chop some of the Yates family away from their official jobs. They propose to begin the work of amputation upon Ballard B. Yates, nominated for the state senate.

The Republican senatorial convention of the Marion-Union-Logan district is booked for Marion, July 8. The renomination of Hon. Warren G. Harding of Marion is assured, and it will be made by acclamation.

Hon. E. N. Gausaulus, of London, United States consul to Pernambuco, Brazil, and who was recently bereft of his wife by her tragic death and burial at sea, says that he will not again return to his post of duty.

Senator F. B. Archer, of Bellaire, has announced that he will be a candidate for president pro tem of the Senate.

Carnegie's Offer of a $40,000 Library to the City of New Castle.

New Castle, June 28.—The city council and the workingmen of New Castle have turned down Andrew Carnegie's offer to donate money for a free library. The offer was made by Mr. Carnegie after a request for it.

To accept the gift, councils was bound by the terms of Mr. Carnegie's offer to donate $4,000 annually to maintain the library, provided $40,000 was received. Labor union members here objected to taking the money. Councils have from time to time deferred action on the matter, and it now goes by default. People are divided on the subject, many wanting the library.

IN HIGH REPUTE

The Great Author and Physician, Dr. A. W. Chase, Is Remembered In East Liverpool.

All over the world Dr. A. W. Chase's receipt book is known, as also in many parts of this country his skill as a physician, and from the great success of his medicines the name will be handed down from generation to generation. Attempts are often made to sell other medicines over the reputation of the doctor—some go so far as to use the name "Chase," but they dare not use the initials "A. W."—portrait or signature which is borne on every box of the genuine—the kind referred to by Mrs. George Hall, of 389 West Market street, ast Liverpool, Ohio, who says: "I was bilious—my head ached hard and constantly—there was a general feeling of weakness and depression. I was asked to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, and did so, getting them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. The result was very good indeed, as the biliousness was overcome—the headaches cured and bodily and nerve strength furnished. Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment I can vouch for in burns as a fine application."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box, also Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Couple Married Themselves. An odd marriage ceremony took place in the Pittsburg courthouse when Richard L. Dovey, of Franklin, and Katie Reinhardt, of Steubenville, became man and wife. EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

18TH YEAR. NO 11.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1901.

TWO CENTS

WATERS CLOSED OVER EAST LIVERPOOL BOYS

Two Lads Named Beatty and Hodgson Drowned Near Grim's Bridge.

HELP FAILED TO REACH THEM

Their Boat Capsized and They Went Down to Rise No More.

GREAT EXCITEMENT CAUSED

By the Terrible Accident—Parents of the Lads Nearly Prostrated With Grief—Boys Were Capsized From a Boat—Bodies Not Found.

Word reached the city about noon today of the drowning of two East Liverpool boys. They were:

ANGUS HODGSON, of Norton street, FRANK BEATTY, of California Hollow.

The melancholy accident took place near Grim's bridge, a few miles northeast of the city, in Little Beaver creek.

Mayor Davidson and Chief of Police Thompson were notified of the accident and started out about 1 o'clock to drive to the scene. No information was contained in the message to the police authorities save that the boys belonged in East Liverpool and had been drowned.

Hodgson was the son of B. H. Hodgson, of 200 Norton street. The Beatty lad, his companion, lived in California hollow.

The friends and relatives of both boys were greatly shocked by the intelligence.

A News Review reporter drove out to Grim's bridge as soon as possible after the accident was reported.

The Hodgson boy was born in Lucyville, Pa., in 1884, and has resided here 12 years. He left last evening with Beatty for the camp at Fernwood, near Grim's bridge. Beatty was 24 years old. Hodgson's parents are now visiting in Logansport, Ind.

The boys were crossing the creek in a boat when the craft capsized. They went down in deep water. The bodies have not been recovered.

WANT TO JOLLIFY

The Fourth May Yet Be Celebrated. Citizens Arranging Meeting.

A meeting was held in the office of a local magistrate this afternoon in which a number of business men and leading citizens were present. The object of the meeting was to reach a decision as to how to arrange for a celebration of the Fourth of July.

The gentlemen concluded that a public meeting should be called and a subscription taken up.

It is too late now to attempt to hold a celebration on a large scale, but an effort will be made to commemorate the event in the most appropriate way possible.

LOCKHART IN JAIL

Alleged Insane Man Locked Up at Wellsville—Diplomacy Exercised.

Joseph Lockhart, of Congo, the projector of a steam ferry to Wellsville, wandered into that city today and is in jail. He will probably be held and examined as to his sanity. Lockhart is a strong man, and to avoid trouble a trick was played on him. To get him into a cell, Park Leech, who is on friendly terms with him, walked into the cell with him on pretense of looking around. When Lockhart was not looking, Leech was let out and the key turned on Lockhart.

TICE-MOSSE

The marriage of Mr. Newton Mosser and Miss Florence Tice was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 250 Bradshaw avenue, by Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the presence of a number of friends. A winding supper was served and the happy couple received the congratulations of a large number of friends. They will make their home in this city.

LISBON AND SALEM

PROPOSE TO HAVE A RAILWAY TO THEMSELVES.

Rumor That the Projected Road to East Liverpool Is Dropped Not Credited.

The latest story about the proposed electric line between Salem and East Liverpool is that East Liverpool will not be connected with it. Rumors have been flying thick and fast the past few days about the line.

The talk at Salem is that the railway will be simply constructed from Salem to Lisbon and the part from Lisbon to East Liverpool dropped for the time being. The Cleveland capitalists and engineers who made the trip over the entire route last week, are alleged to have come to this conclusion. One of the alleged reasons for the abandonment of the East Liverpool part is the many high hills and grades.

This does not bear out the statements made by U. J. Smith when he was here. He was enthusiastic over the prospects of the line and promised the East Liverpool people a chance of riding to the county seat. It is absurd to believe that the railway projectors would deliberately propose to cut off the main source of their revenue. The cities of East Liverpool and Wellsville and the population of the adjacent districts would furnish more patronage for a Lisbon electric line in a day than Salem would in a week.

It may be that it is the intention of the railroad builders first to connect up Lisbon and Salem, but it may be safely set down for a fact that the Salem, Lisbon and East Liverpool street railway will not be built and the most important part of it left uncompleted.

As for the hills, of which Salem people profess to be in so much fear, East Liverpool street railways manage to get over and around them, and the Clevelander back of the new scheme can do so if they wish and without much difficulty.

BUCKLEY-ADAMS

Prominent Young Couple Married And Once Taken to Their New Home in Chester.

John Turner Adams and Miss Mary Alice Buckley were married last evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. C. G. Jordan. Miss Rose Dallor, of Wheeling, and Harry Hoff, of this city, stood up for the couple, and immediately after the ceremony the party were driven to Mr. Adams' new home already prepared on Indiana avenue, Chester.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley, of Franklin avenue, while the groom is one of the best known porters in the city.

OKEY-WORCESTER

A Wellsville Young Lady And an East Liverpool Young Man Married.

Miss Ethel Okey, of Wellsville, and Mr. George Worcester, of this city, were married last evening at the residence of Rev. C. G. Jordan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The bride is well known young lady of Wellsville. Mr. Worcester is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worcester, of Fourth street. The young couple left last evening for Pittsburgh and a wedding trip. They will reside here.

GREAT SPORT CATCHING FISH

Reservoir Was Drained and the Italians Caused Fun For The Crowd.

MADE A GOOD BIG HAUL

NOTICE OF APPEAL ENTERED

Their Catch Including Some Fine Fish. The Water Works Department Gives the Reservoir a Thorough Cleaning.

Superintendent Morley and a force of men cleaned out the reservoir last night. Mr. Morley promised the Italians who were employed on the construction of the new reservoir that they should have all the fish found in the reservoir. When all but three feet of the water was drained out Mr. Morley placed a covering over the pipe and the Italians went in after the fish.

With the mud and water it was about waist deep on them, and they were armed with buckets, rakes and hoes. The fish objected to being caught so easily and when a rush was made for them they would rush away, and the men, unable to run in the mud, would take a header, several of their companions falling on top. The mud baths did not discourage them and they kept on at the work until they had secured about 40 good sized fish, mainly carp and catfish.

One Italian seized a big catfish and got the sharp barb in his finger. He howled and dropped the fish, while the crowd roared. The sport furnished amusement for about 200 people. Some of them said it was better than a circus.

Many of the fish caught by the Italians weighed from two to five pounds each.

After the fishing was over the reservoir was given a thorough cleaning.

To clean out the reservoir required the services of a large force of men from 6 o'clock p.m. until 3 a.m. About three feet of mud and slime were removed from the basin, but no bodies of dogs or cats were found, as is usually the case whenever a reservoir is cleaned.

Mr. Gipner stated that he did not think the cleaning of the reservoir would at all change the muddy condition of the water used from the hydrants, as it was drawn from above where the mud was removed.

He says the water works people can't make clear water out of the muddy liquid of the Ohio at the present time.

BARKING DOC

Has Tortured the Neighbors of Its Owner Until Their Patience Has Become Exhausted.

A family living near the Burford pottery possess a dog which has so taxed the patience of the residents of that immediate vicinity that unless the brute is disposed of it will meet a much deserved fate from a pistol bullet. On several occasions the cur has tortured the neighbors of its owner by barking and whining at nights and continuing the uproar until the appearance of daylight.

Several persons who have been pestered by the cur have openly threatened to shoot it. Last night the brute got at its favorite tricks and continued to bark until midnight, when several persons went to the home of its owner and induced him to quiet the animal. He promised to get rid of the troublesome brute without delay, and unless he does he is likely to have a dog funeral on his hands.

AFFIDAVIT FILED

Against William McHenry, Charging Him With Having Robbed E. W. Arnold.

E. W. Arnold, the man who was robbed of a watch and other articles a few days ago at Mrs. Stanton's boarding house in Locust alley, filed an affidavit in Justice Rose's court yesterday afternoon, charging William McHenry with the theft. It was reported that instead of leaving for his home in Parkersburg, as was at first supposed, McHenry was in the city, but keeping in hiding.

Officers have been searching for the accused man, but have as yet failed to locate him. It is now believed that Collins was indebted to the Hambleton company in the sum of $286.75.

VERDICT GIVEN FOR DEFENDANT

Suit of C. K. Collins Against the Hamilton Company Decided.

MADE A GOOD BIG HAUL

NOTICE OF APPEAL ENTERED

Four Attorneys Engaged in the Case, And the Hearing Lasted All Day. The Jury Rendered Its Verdict After 9 o'clock at Night.

One of the hardest fought cases that has been tried in a local court for several months past was that of C. K. Collins against the Mark Hambleton company, of Canton, which took place in Squire McLane's court yesterday before a jury. Commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning the case did not reach the jury until after 9 o'clock at night, and during the entire time the counsel for both sides engaged in controversies of a heated nature and every technical point that could be brought up was argued to a standstill.

The case is too well known to need a detailed explanation, as at the time the action was first brought the News Review published its purport in full. Collins was in the employ of the Mark Hambleton company and acted as the manager of a Fourth street branch store. In the contract which he made with his employer Collins agreed to be held responsible for all goods entrusted to his care and to make all collections from the sales made by his agents in this city.

At the time Collins left the employ of the Hambleton company a difference in accounts existed, the latter claiming that Collins had received a quantity of goods which were disposed of in some manner, but that he had failed to account for them or the money accruing from their sale. The defendant also claimed that Collins had neglected to keep a proper account of his collections and that he also failed to keep his goods checked up in order to keep posted as to how he stood with the company.

Collins admitted that he had failed to keep a proper account of the goods turned over to him, but claimed that his time was so much taken up by making his collections over the city that it was impossible for him to do the work. He also claimed that for several weeks he had been away from East Liverpool and that during his absence the father of the defendant had charge of the East Liverpool branch. Collins testified that most of the goods the company had charged up to him had been sent to this city during the time he was absent, and that he had nothing whatever to do with their disposition.

A number of receipts were introduced to prove that Collins had received the goods charged on his account, but the plaintiff swore positively that several of them were forged. His name was signed to them, but Collins testified that he had never seen the receipts. He admitted at the time he gave notice of his intention to leave the employ of the Hambleton people that he was short to some extent and agreed to make up the deficiency by allowing the shortage to be taken from his salary. Later, however, he learned that his shortage was greater than had at first been figured on, and Collins claimed he refused to pay the extra money for the reason he suspected that his employer was attempting to swindle him.

The cause for the suit grew out of the refusal of the company to pay Collins $45 which he claimed was due him for wages. The plaintiff admitted he owed Collins the amount claimed, but said he was indebted to the company in the sum of $286.75. Only three witnesses were examined, but they were put on the stand at several different times and cross-examined by all the attorneys involved in the suit.

Ex-Mayor James A. Rice, of Canton, represented the defendant and Attorneys Lones, of Wellsville, and H. E. Grossman, the plaintiff. The lawyers agreed to limit their arguments, but in the short space of time they did have nothing was overlooked and their pleas were to the point.

The jury deliberated about half an hour. They found that while the plaintiff's claim was correct and that the sum of $45 was due him, they also held that the claim of the defendant that Collins was indebted to the Hambleton company in the sum of $286.75 was shown to be correct also. Hence their decision was in the defendant's favor. The plaintiff's counsel gave notice of appeal and the arguments will be made before Justice McLane next Tuesday.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

TO BE ERECTED ADJACENT TO THE POTTERS' BANK.

It Will Be Three Stories, of Brick, And Thoroughly Up-to-Date.

One of the most important real estate deals in several weeks was closed last evening when the papers were signed up and the transfer of the lot, 25x90 feet on Washington street adjoining the new Potters' National bank building was made to a prominent uptown business man.

The deal has been pending for several days, and it is understood the property brought a good round sum.

It is the intention of the purchaser to begin work at once on the erection of a three-story brick business block on the site. The structure will be modern in every particular and when it is completed will compare favorably with any of its sort in the city. It is expected that the building can be completed within three months.

FAMILY REUNION

Of the Lindersmith, Cressinger And Willard Families Near Millport.

The twelfth reunion of the Lindersmith, Cressinger and Willard families was held yesterday one-half mile east of Millport, on the C. & P. railroad. There was a large attendance and the occasion was most enjoyable.

E. W. Lindersmith, chaplain, U. S. A., of Doylestown, O., gave a very interesting and enthusiastic address, followed by speeches by Rev. Mr. Paul of Luterne, O.; Rev. U. T. Brown, of Amherst, Pa.; Rev. Mr. Kirkbride, of Millport, and Rev. O. D. Frederick, of Irondale.

The Cornet band of Irondale responded immediately after each address. The music was worthy of comment.

Miss Margaret Knepper and Mrs. M. Dunlap, of this city, attended.

DECLARED OFF

Unity Township Will Not Vote on the Prohibition Question Tomorrow.

New Waterford, June 28.—(Special)—The Unity township election to determine whether or not liquor shall be sold outside of this town and East Palestine and which was to have taken place tomorrow, has been called off.

The order providing for the election was rescinded because of the discovery made that the authorities had proceeded too fast in calling it, and the election, if held, was likely to be invalidated. The two years during which the law was in effect under the former election did not expire until June 24, and action was taken looking to another election, prior to that time. An effort will now be made to have the election held later, in full compliance with the terms of the law.

COT HIS WATCH

Henry Barthel Recovers the Property Stolen From Him at Rock Springs.

Henry Barthel, the local bartender, who was robbed of a watch a few days ago while lying asleep at Rock Springs park, has recovered the missing property.

He learned the identity of the party who got the time piece and filed an affidavit against him yesterday in Justice Rose's court. When the alleged thief became apprised that he was to be arrested he returned the watch to Barthel. He told the justice he had purchased the watch, but Barthel denied the story.

Murder Verdict Reversed.

St. Clairsville, June 28.—The circuit court yesterday reversed the finding in the common pleas court wherein Bernard Devine and Leonard Stephens were convicted of the murder of Clarence Warwick in this county a few months ago. The decision was made upon the basis of insufficient evidence.

WELLSVILLE

BRIDGE AT CONGO

OPTIONS OBTAINED ON LAND FOR
PIERS AND APPROACHES.

Part of a Plan of Extensive Improvements at Newell And on the Southside.

The project of a bridge across the river to Congo has gone so far that an option has been obtained from Watson C. Johnson, of Congo, for the land that will be required for the piers and approaches to the bridge on the West Virginia shore. Mr. Johnson stated last evening that he did not know the names of the capitalists who were interested. He did not deal with them directly. He was given to understand by the persons to whom he gave the option that the money for the bridge, if it were decided to build it, would be furnished by Pittsburgh parties.

Mr. Johnson admits that he does not know a great deal about the plans, but says he has reason to think that the promoters are acting in good faith and that it would be well for the business men of Wellsville to help.

It is understood that the capitalists interested in the bridge are also interested in other matters in the East Liverpool and Wellsville district. They are said to be interested in the new town of Newell, where in the last two weeks 150 building lots have been sold. This new town is part of a great plan of development, the main features of which are a bridge over the river at Wellsville, a bridge over at the west end of East Liverpool, and a trolley line on the West Virginia side of the river, connecting Wellsville and East Liverpool.

Mr. Johnson states that the capitalists interested in the proposed bridge have had engineers in this city and Congo twice looking for a suitable site for a bridge. He says he was told the engineers thought the bridge should cross the river at Fourth street.

OVER THE BANK

A TORONTO MAN'S EXPERIENCE DURING A DRIVE.

Kicking Horse Landed Him and the Buggy at the Foot of a Hill.

Joseph B. Pierce, while driving from Wellsville to Toronto late Wednesday afternoon, had a very thrilling experience. He was driving a Columbian county horse, and when just below Yellow Creek postoffice, at a point where the road is narrow and runs along a precipitous bank, the animal began to kick fiercely, and Mr. Pierce, in order to save himself from injury and check the kicking horse, jumped out of the buggy, which was then half overturned. He landed on the steep bank, and went tumbling down over the hillside for a distance of thirty or forty feet before he succeeded in catching a small tree and stopping himself in his headlong career.

The horse continued its efforts to reduce the buggy to kindling wood, and before Mr. Pierce could get back up the hill the buggy had overturned and the horse, having got its foot fastened about the shafts so that it could not disentangle it, horse and buggy came tumbling over the hill after him. The small trees stopped the buggy, which was now pretty much of a wreck, and the horse went tumbling down over the bank, landing on the railroad, fifty or more feet below.

About this time Mr. Blackburn, the blacksmith at the Calumet works, came along, and with his aid Mr. Pierce, who was considerably scratched and bruised, but not otherwise seriously hurt, succeeded in getting the buggy down to the railroad and thence to a shed nearby, where it was left for repairs, and took the horse, which was seemingly not much the worse for its experience, back to Wellsville. Mr. Pierce returned home on the train.

MATHEWS-MORRIS

A Wellsville Couple Wedded at the Bride's Home—Impressive Ceremony.

Miss Lurena May Matthews, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Matthews, were married at 8 p. m. to John R. Morris, at the home of the parents on Highland avenue. The ceremony was performed in the parlor by Rev. R. H. Edwards, the rector of the Church of the Ascension. Miss Mary Noss was the bridesmaid and Fred Matthews, brother of the bride, best man. Miss Edna Morris, sister of the bridegroom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white silk, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Miss Noss, the bridesmaid, wore mull and she carried pink roses.

After the ceremony a dinner was served to the 35 guests by Mrs. Elwood Bunting. Those present from out of town were Mrs. Morris Mattox, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mathias Eagen, of St. Louis, a sister of the bride; Mrs. John Knepper, of Carnegie, and Miss Edna Wurst, of Wyandotte, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris left on the midnight train for a lake trip. They will visit the Pan-American exposition. Upon their return they will live with the parents of the bride. Mr. Morris is employed at the rolling mill.

WIFE'S TALE OF WOE

Mrs. Frank Neal Complains of Cruel And Abusive Treatment.

Mrs. Neal, wife of Frank Neal, of 1216 Commerce street, was at the mayor's office this morning with tears in her eyes and a story of trouble. She said Neal had been drinking to excess, that he had abused her and her two young children, and that she had taken the children to the house of Jacob Wayne, a neighbor, and that she has staying there with them.

Mrs. Neal is Neal's second wife. She said by his first wife he had two children, young women now, and that he had driven them from his home by his conduct. Mrs. Neal also said that her husband seized her roughly by the arm last night and hurt her. The woman made an affidavit against her husband, and he will probably be arrested during the day.

Locked Up Again.

"Slick" Smurthwaite was locked up again yesterday afternoon for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was found helpless by Officers Madden and Thorne on Fourth street. Smurthwaite says the police arrest him not because he gets drunk, but in order to get some money out of him to help run the city.

There are several concerns advertising Furniture in Magazines using the time worn "Factory Price" scheme. They tell you they sell at absolutely factory cost, in other words, they are in the business for their health. The fact is, they do not manufacture the goods at all, they buy them same as we do and cannot sell as cheap as we do, they paying the high priced Magazine advertising they do. We will be more than pleased to furnish any catalogue or magazine advertised furniture at their price, in fact we often have the identical article on our floors always for less money.

Below are a few examples. In June McClure's, page 66, the following advertisement appears:

"The college roommate of a friend of mine was engaged to a lady in New York," writes the Rev. D. M. Steele in his article on "Some People I Have Married" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "His people are Congregationalists, but while at Yale he became a Unitarian. Her parents are Roman Catholics, but she was a member of the Ethical Culture society at Carnegie hall. In compliance with her mother's wish he asked five different priests to marry them, but all refused. In despair he came for me. I married them, an Episcopalian, with the ritual service in a Presbyterian chapel. The Roman Catholic brother of the bride and the Congregationalist sister of the groom were present. This sister acted as one witness; the other witness was a Jewess."

EDWIN RUTHVEN DIES

In the Electric Chair at the State Penitentiary In Columbus.

MURDERED POLICEMAN SHIPP

In Cleveland, When Found In House He Was Burglarizing—Fired Shots Through Window—Protested Innocence of Himself and Wife.

Columbus, O., June 28.—Edwin Ruthven, a negro was electrocuted in the annex at the Ohio state penitentiary about 12:08 a.m. The electrocution was successful in every detail.

The crime for which Ruthven, or Rutheben, as the commitment papers read, was electrocuted, was the murder of Police Officer Shipp in Cleveland, on the night of May 6, 1900. Shipp and another policeman, who worked with him, discovered that the residence of a man named Leuking was being burglarized, and they closed in on the house. Shipp found the burglar in the pantry and demanded his surrender. He responded by firing two shots through the window at the officer, the first proving fatal.

Ruthven was originally sentenced to be electrocuted on March 12 last, but was three times reprieved. He was 31 years of age. He protested his innocence to the last, declaring that neither he nor his wife, who is now serving a sentence for receiving stolen goods, was guilty. But one shock was necessary, and he was pronounced dead in two minutes after the current was applied.

RAILROAD MEN'S REUNION.

Many Prominent Persons in Attendance Upon the Sessions at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, June 28.—The United Railroad Brotherhood of Harrisburg held their annual reunion. Over 1,000 railroad men from Harrisburg, Altoona and other railroad centers attended.

There were also in attendance F. M. Arthur, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Governor Stone, F. F. Clark, grand master of the Order of Railway Conductors; Lieutenant Governor Gobin; F. P. Sargent, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Adjutant General Stewart; P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Attorney General Elkin; M. M. Dolph, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Telegraphers; Major Isaac W. Brown, chief clerk of the bureau of railroads of the internal department; Grant Brenneman, grand master of the Order of Car Repairmen of America; Frank Wilson, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trackmen.

BRITISH STEEL MAKERS UNDERBID BY U. S. COMBINE.

New York, June 28.—Staffordshire consumers are receiving offers from London brokers on behalf of the United States Steel corporation of Bessemer billets in 1,000 and 2,000-ton lots at £5 a ton delivered in England. Under present rates of exchange this means under $24.50 a ton delivered. The ruling English price for billets is more than $28 a ton, so that the American figure is 12½ per cent under that of the British.

Discussion as to Prize Money.

Washington, June 28.—Justice Bradley, of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, sitting in equity court, decided that Rear Admiral Sampson is entitled to prize money for the capture of the Spanish squadron off Santiago, and that Admiral Dewey is entitled to prize money for the ships he sank in Manila bay. One-half of the value of these vessels is to be distributed among the officers and men of those squadrons. The judge decided that Admiral Dewey is not entitled to prize money for naval stores captured at Cavite arsenal.

DEMOCRATIC CRITICS.

Our Democratic brethren are not satisfied with the platform drafted and adopted by the Ohio Republican convention. It was not to be expected that they would be. There would be numerous fatal defects in any Republican platform that the Ohio Democracy would approve and endorse. But, when they come down to particulars, our friends the enemy profess to be chiefly grieved because a large part of the Ohio platform is devoted to national issues. Well, what would they have?

Ohio is a considerable part of the nation and cuts no inconspicuous figure in the sisterhood of states. Ohio people are interested in the affairs of the nation and Ohio's sons play a distinguished part therein. The next general assembly will elect a United States senator, and the coming campaign is certainly national to that extent. The eyes of the nation are on Ohio, and for the Republicans of this state to avoid a discussion of national issues, either in the platform or on the stump, would be cowardly and weak, and neither the politicians nor the people of the Buckeye state are built that way.

As for state issues, what issues are there save that of good government? And the party is pledged to that, and the affairs of the commonwealth were never better administered than they are today, by Republican officeholders. The Republican platform suits Ohio Republicans, and they will live up to it. It was not built to suit Democrats. The fact that they don't like it is strong testimony in its favor.

SECRETARY HAY.

Semi-official announcement comes from Washington that the rumors of Secretary Hay's probable retirement from the cabinet are untrue and that Mr. Hay will remain at the head of the state department until the close of President McKinley's administration. It is to be hoped that the report is true and that Mr. Hay is in the cabinet to stay at least until 1905. He is a trained and experienced diplomat, and in dealing with manifold difficult problems which have arisen in the past few years he has shown statesmanship of the highest order. Few secretaries of state have had greater problems to solve, and he has handled all of them in a way that has met the applause of the people of the United States and won the admiration of the nations with which he has had to deal. Secretary Hay is a tower of strength to the administration, and every patriot will be glad to see him remain where he is.

LET US HAVE STREET SIGNS.

What has become of those street signs, which the city was to place at corners for the guidance of strangers? Nobody has seen them yet, and we are not aware that council has made any move toward providing them. Yet there is not a councilman, a city officer, or a private citizen who will not admit that they are needed. Thousands of strangers visit the city annually, and nine-tenths of them usually desire to find some particular locality. With no street signs to guide them, they are likely to pass and repass the very spot they are in search of without discovering it. The absence of signs is bewildering and annoying. The signs need not be expensive; the chief requirement is that they be durable and readable. Citizens would appreciate the information they would give; for, owing to the rapid extension of the city in every direction, there are comparatively few residents who know all the thoroughfares by name. It is certainly time that we ceased to resemble a country village in this respect. Give us the signs; they are a necessity. Economize on something else that is less needed.

Jay Reed's paper, the Irondale Courier Weekly, which was for a time a part of the Steubenville Press syndicate, has emerged from the "trust" and is going it alone. It may not look as pretty as it did, but it has more home news than formerly, and that is what is appreciated in a local paper. Mr. Reed's energetic efforts deserve rich rewards.

It is announced that Oom Paul Kruger is coming to America to lecture in the fall. He can tell us a whole lot of things, but it is safe to wager that he can't tell us when the Boers are going to drive the British out of Africa.

Pennsylvania, having got rid of her legislature, will celebrate Independence day with zeal and enthusiasm.

The undrenched picnic is a decided rarity.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Bridget Reilly.

Mrs. Bridget Reilly, widow of the late James Reilly, died at her home on Franklin street at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon of paralysis. The lady was 66 years old and has been a resident of East Liverpool for the past 16 years, having come to this country from Donegal, Ireland, in 1885.

Mrs. Reilly's husband died in Ireland more than 25 years ago. She leaves four children, Joseph, James and William Reilly and Mrs. Frank Densmore.

Mrs. Reilly was a most estimable lady and was highly respected. The funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 8:30 tomorrow morning, and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

CENTENARIAN DEAD.

Mrs. McKeever, of Mercer County, Pa., said to have been 110 Years Old.

Sharon, Pa., June 28.—Mrs. Susan McKeever died yesterday at her residence in Jefferson township, Mercer county, aged 110 years. She was born in County Derry, Ireland, and came to America about 1811, settling in Philadelphia with her husband. They bought a farm in this county over 70 years ago. Her husband died at the age of 90 years, and Mrs. McKeever has lived with her son, who is blind, ever since.

She was a member of the Mercer Catholic church, and until a short time ago attended services regularly. She had never been seriously ill previous to her last sickness. She is survived by one son and several grand and great-grandchildren in this place.

The Local Potteries.

The clay hands at the Burford pottery are off duty today under very peculiar circumstances. The regular engineer at that plant has been ill for several days, and during his absence the duties have been performed by an inexperienced employee. This morning when the time arrived for starting the machinery the engine refused to work and despite all efforts on the part of the workmen remained inactive. The employees all went home, and not long afterward it was discovered that the gas was not turned on in the cylinder, and it was not strange that the machinery could not be started.

John Kennedy yesterday resigned his position as printer at the Sevres China company. He left this morning for Buffalo, where he will spend several days. From Buffalo he will go to Ford City, where he has accepted a similar position with the Ford City Pottery company.

Miss Lewis, a ware dresser at the Liverpool pottery, was overcome with the heat while at work yesterday and was taken to her home on Seventh street very ill. She is somewhat improved today, although not yet able to return to work.

William Curry, employed at the Thompson pottery, has been the victim of several jokes played on him by his fellow workmen recently. Curry has been telling about his good ball playing and Tuesday they got him out to practice. He had not been in the game very long until a bucketful of slop was thrown from one of the windows and he received a bath. He did not appreciate the joke and says he will not play ball any more around the pottery.

The reason for the early shutdown at the Brunt pottery was the refusal of a number of the boys employed at that plant to continue until the time

JEFFERSON DEMOCRATS

Named a Ticket After Several Who Had Been Nominated Had Declined.

Steubenville, June 28.—The Jefferson county Democratic convention yesterday endorsed Kilbourne for governor. The greatest difficulty the convention experienced was in getting persons to allow the use of their names as candidates on the county ticket. William Strayer and Frank Burns both declined the nomination for sheriff, as did James Stevenson that for treasurer. Robert Howerter and Dr. O'Connell were both named for auditor, but final action was deferred until they could be waited on.

W. G. Bell and James Branagan also declined the nomination for sheriff, and after some considerable figuring around among the brethren C. B. O'Connell, of East Springfield, was put on the ticket. Following is the ticket nominated: Representative, John G. Ickis, of York; auditor, Dr. W. J. O'Connell, of Mingo; coroner, John Loomer, of Steubenville; treasurer James W. Stevenson, of Richmond; sheriff, C. B. O'Connell, of Salem; commissioner, W. A. Strayer, of Cross Creek.

The delegates elected were as follows: Bartley Foley, John Caniff, John Ovington, D. A. Aultman, D. J. Quinn, G. S. Gilday and John McKee, all of Steubenville.

LOST SON FOUND

Supposed Johnstown Flood Victim Alive And Well at Youngstown.

Youngstown, June 28.—John Smith, of Dayton, found a son here yesterday whom he supposed was lost in the Johnstown flood 11 years ago. Smith, his wife and 3-year-old son resided in Johnstown at the time of the flood, and the father supposed the boy was lost with his mother.

A few weeks ago he heard that his son had escaped, and the search resulted most successfully when young Smith, now a sturdy youth of 14, met his father. The boy was adopted by Rufus Price, a farmer near this city, and a visit by a Dayton man to the Price homestead furnished the clew which led to the happy reunion.

An Independence Day Frolic.

At a Fourth of July picnic were passed around to the company wooden plates of generous dinner plate size. On these were pasted various odd shaped pieces of red, white and blue paper. These, it was explained, were intended to represent in their general outline the maps of the 13 original states as they now appeared, and with them, to avoid the unlucky number, was also a map of Cuba. At the top of each, instead of its name, was printed a number. Pencils were distributed, and the guests were given half an hour to guess the identity of the maps, the names of which were to be written on the backs of the plates. The couple most successful in this were each presented with an immense cannon firecracker, which, however, was not as dangerous as it seemed at first sight, for it was nothing worse than a clever imitation of the real thing filled with bonbons.—Alice Charlotte Wheeler in Woman's Home Companion.

HOT POLITICAL FIGHT

On Municipal and State Officials
Inaugurated at Philadelphia.

TELEGRAM FROM C. E. SMITH.

Postmaster General, Created Great Enthusiasm—Col. A. K. McClure Severe In His Denunciation—Rev. Dr. McCook and Others Spoke.

Philadelphia, June 28.—What promises to be one of the fiercest political wars ever waged in this city was inaugurated at the Academy of Music last night, when about 5,000 citizens in two meetings nominated District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., to be a candidate for the office of district attorney against the candidacy of John Weaver, who was nominated for that office last week by the Republican organization of this city. The Academy of Music was crowded and thousands were unable to enter the building to hear well-known Philadelphians arraign the present city administration, as well as the state officials. Present among the participants of last night's demonstration were Colonel A. K. McClure, the retired editor of the Philadelphia Times, a staunch Democrat; William S. Stenger, secretary of the commonwealth under Governor Pattison; former District Attorney George S. Graham, a Republican; ex-Postmaster John Field, and others not so widely known. In the audience were ex-Sheriff Clement James Pollock and many other men known in local politics. A telegram from Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith was read, which created unbounded enthusiasm. It was as follows:

Contents of Smith's Telegram.

"Can you use my name as a vice president? It is time for a new declaration of independence. Philadelphia ought to rise in her might against jobbers in her public rights and the ravishing of her sacred safeguards of law."

Colonel A. K. McClure said, in part, that the purpose of the meeting was to protect the citizens from organized crime on the part of the public officials. District Attorney Rothermel, he said, was nominated by the Republican organization about three years ago and elected. Now this same organization, controlled by the same men, refuse him another term. They have named a man, he continued, who is untried and an unknown quantity. Mr. Rothermel sent to prison ballot box thieves, the masters of whom are the political leaders of the city today. He had also made it so uncomfortable for others of the same stripe that they are living in distant lands and cannot come home until Mr. Rothermel is out of office. That is the reason, he said, why Mr. Rothermel was not named.

Colonel McClure spoke of how the street railway bills were rushed through the legislature and how the governor had signed them at a "convenient hour, so that the 'gang's' representatives could be first at the door the next morning to get charters." He also told how the mayor had asked for bids on a loan of $9,000,000 and only $5,000 was subscribed for. He said the credit of the city was unquestionable, but the authorities of Philadelphia could not be trusted. The "machine," he continued, had control of the United States senators, the governor, the legislature, the mayor, the city councils, and they felt invincible; but two things menaced them, an honest district attorney and an honest judiciary. To wipe this out, he said, the Republican leaders created a new court and placed on the bench appointees of the governor, and now they propose to get possession of the district attorney's office. He hoped that the new judges would be true to their oaths.

Other addresses were made by former District Attorney Graham, ex-Postmaster Field, Franke Leake, Rev. Dr. Henry McCook and others.

Contents of Resolutions Adopted.

The following resolutions were read and adopted:

Whereas, Insolently despotic and criminally profligate political power, embracing banded corruptionists of both the great political parties, has usurped the authority of the people in both the city and state; ran riot in franchise gifts and appropriations to favorites, involving the loss of many millions to the taxpayers; created offices and officers not needed or demanded by the people; and practically proclaimed that the public prosecutor, who should stand like adamant between the community and the mastery of crime, must be obedient to the orders of political masters; and

Whereas, District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., had been ostentatiously rejected for renomination solely because of his unwavering devotion to his sacred public duties; therefore,

Resolved, That the people of Philadelphia, in mass meeting of overwhelming numbers assembled, hereby nominate District Attorney P. F. Rothermel, Jr., for re-election, because of the masterly ability, unflattering integrity, and tireless fidelity he has uniformly exhibited in protecting the public against crime; and we appeal to the considerate judgment of every good citizen to support our prosecuting officers whose overthrow is demanded by organized criminal profligacy and debauchery.

The next resolution provides for appointment of a committee of nine to conduct the contest, confer with reform organizations, in completing a ticket, etc.

Eldorado, Kan., June 28.—The Jessie Morrison jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree, penalty for which is imprisonment from three to five years.

SOUTH SIDEBUSY SESSION

HELD BY CHESTER COUNCIL AND MANY MATTERS UP.

Bell Telephone Franchise Question Deferred—Severe Penalties for Illegal Liquor Selling.

Chester council held a brief and quiet session last evening. All the members were present and also Solicitor Marshall.

The first thing up for discussion was the granting of a franchise to the C. D. & P. Telephone company. It was decided to defer the matter until the next meeting.

The privilege to post bills exclusively was let to John Boulton for the consideration of $20.

Councilman Riley, of the police committee, reported that the police badges and other supplies had been ordered and were expected to arrive this week.

The discussion of "Dewey" lake occupied considerable time, but as Solicitor Marshall gave it as his opinion that the city would be liable for any damages to private property resulting from this pond of water the street committee and Road Supervisor Pugh were instructed to abate the nuisance in the way that in their judgment seemed best.

Upon a request from Chief Allison council placed the pay for extra policeman at $1.75 per day. No compensation had as yet been set.

An ordinance was passed which imposed a fine of from $5 to $100 upon any person convicted of illegally selling liquor, and at the discretion of the court a jail sentence of from five to 30 days. The councilmen are of the opinion that this will have a deterrent effect on the running of speakeasies.

An ordinance regulating the garbage nuisance and imposing penalties was passed.

The franchise ordinance of the Columbian County Telephone company passed first reading.

The town officers secured the building of John Shrader on Virginia avenue, which will be used for the present for a city building.

LARGE, ORDERLY CROWD

Came to the First Ward, Pittsburgh, School Picnic at the Park.

The people who attended the picnic of the First ward schools of Pittsburgh at Rock Springs park yesterday, were very orderly. Only one fight took place at the park and that was between the visitors. One young man, accused of making "goo goo eyes" at another's girl, was called down.

Words ended in a mixup and the fellow who made the eyes was getting the best of the other when five of his friends appeared on the scene. They went to his assistance and knocking the other down kicked him in the face several times. Officers were summoned, but peace was patched up and the young men were hustled out of the park.

The crowd was a large one, and a prominent Pittsburgh business man is reported to have borne a large share of the expense for tickets and entertainment.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Of the East End And Southside U. P. Churches at the Park Today.

Three special cars conveyed the Sunday school children of the Second U. P. church of East End to the Rock Springs park today, where they joined the Sunday school children from the First U. P. church and the Chester chapel in their annual outing.

THE LINE IS BUSY

Telephone Subscribers Often Told So, And the Statement Is True Enough.

Patrons of the Columbian County Telephone lines are beginning to complain of the out-of-town service. Business men say, no matter how great their haste nor how important their message, it is almost impossible during certain hours of the day, to get a chance to talk with people outside the city. Call up Lisbon, Salem or Wellsville, and the answer almost invariably comes, "The line is busy."

This is not surprising, considering the amount of business that passes over the toll lines from East Liverpool. There are five of these lines leading from this city—two to Salem two to Wellsville and one to Lisbon. East Liverpool generally receives about 700 calls in a day and sends out over 1,000. "The line is busy," and no mistake. There is a strong effort to be made on the part of business men to have the service improved and more lines added, so that a half dozen calls will not be necessary to reach an out-of-town subscriber.

JOSEPH BROTHERS.EAST END*TREASURE FROM

Valuable Old Coins Found in the Wall of an Old House at Calcutta.

George Rudibaugh, who is employed by R. A. Orin, of the East End, made an unusual discovery while tearing down a very old house at Calcutta. He found a rusty metal box in a part of the wall near the foundation which contained a number of valuable coins, some of which dated as far back as 1790. They were of copper and silver and were not of much value except for their antiquity.

The find has caused no little talk among the residents of the village, as the house which he is tearing down is a very old brick structure, the date of its erection being before the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Not a little speculation is indulged in as to who probably hid the peculiar box in the wall of the building.

JUDGMENT FOR 50 CENTS

In a Case Tried Before Justice Carman In the East End.

In the case of Henry Twiford against William Robinson, heard in Justice Carman's court yesterday afternoon, judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of 50 cents and costs. Twiford sued to recover $1 damages for a broken window which was caused by a stone thrown by Norman, the minor son of William Robinson. Two neighbor ladies were examined as witnesses and also several other persons who attended the trial. Some interesting family affairs were aired in the court, after which the trouble was adjusted.

HORSE SUNSTRUCK

Animal Belonging to Contractor McLaughlin Succumbed and Died.

A horse belonging to Contractor John McLaughlin died from the effects of a sunstroke about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The team became overheated and both horses were sick. Veterinary Surgeon McFarland was called from the city and made an effort to revive the horse which was prostrated, working with it from about noon until the animal died. The team was used by the workmen who are paving Pennsylvania avenue.

Boys' Camping Club.

A number of East End boys have formed a camping club and are now spending their spare time on the river shore above the residence of James Martin. George Nelson is president of the organization and Alvin Hartzell is secretary. The boys will keep their tents pitched here during the remainder of the summer and will spend their evenings at the various amusements of the camping club.

Funeral of a Child.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, which died yesterday, was buried at 1 o'clock today. Rev. G. W. Orcutt conducted the funeral services at the home on Elmwood street.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Malcolm, of Dixonville, a girl.

Bert Hersher left today for Findlay, O., where he will spend the Fourth.

Harvey Wallace, of St. George street, is in Pittsburgh on business today.

Gambel & Surles are opening a new clay bank near the brick yard at Lake's hollow.

John Miller, of the city proper, has moved into the residence in Dixonville vacated by Mrs. Frank Riley.

Roma, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Henderson, of First avenue, is very ill with nervous trouble.

Mrs. Charles Herbert has returned to the East End after a month's visit with friends at Salem, Sebring and Youngstown.

Mrs. Frank Riley has moved her household effects from her residence in Dixonville to her former home in the East End.

Mrs. William Tice left this morning for Washington county, O., where she will remain for some time visiting at her former home.

Dr. F. F. Davis has taken his sick child to visit with relatives in Beaver county. The baby was seriously ill when he left the East End yesterday morning.

Will Andrews, of First avenue, is confined to the house suffering with a sore on his left leg. It was lanced by the doctor last evening and it is thought he will be able to be out soon.

MUST CLOSE SUNDAYS.

Parkersburg Mayor Orders Unnecessary Selling Discontinued In That Place.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 28.—The indications are that Parkersburg will not only have dry Sundays henceforth, but quiet ones as well. A communication was sent to Chief of Police Landslide by Mayor Vandervort instructing him that the Sunday laws would have to be more strictly enforced. The chief was instructed to have his men inform all persons in the habit of keeping their business houses open on Sunday that they must not do so hereafter. An effort will be made to stop all Sunday business of whatever kind. In the communication meat stores, fruit stores and similar places are mentioned, notice is given that bootblacks must not ply their trade on the streets, and it is specifically mentioned that the only exceptions to the closing rule will be restaurants and drug stores, which only put up prescriptions. It is further stated that it is found that any of the saloons are selling on Sunday in violation of the law their licenses will be taken away from them. If the new regulations are enforced it will make a very radical change in present conditions.

YALE BEAT HARVARD.

Won 'Varsity Boat Race by Less Than a Length.

New London, Conn., June 28.—Yale beat the 'Varsity race with Harvard by less than a length in the last 100 yards of the four-mile struggle.

Harvard got the best of the start and was slightly ahead in the first mile, then Yale pulled to the front. Harvard sputtered and the boats were even. Then the crimson shell was a bit ahead, and at the three-mile mark it seemed as if Harvard would be victorious, but the awful pace was telling on the Cambridge boat. Yale came up alongside again, and down the long line between rows of yachts that flanked the line it was absolutely an even thing. In the last quarter of a mile Yale hit up the stroke again, and a hundred yards from the finish the nose of the New Haven shell was poked perceptibly to the front. Harvard was unable to respond again to the frantic call of her coxswain, and the blue was a winner.

The official time—Yale, 23:37; Harvard, 23:45.

JUNIOR MECHANICS

Arranging for a Big Reception at Rock Springs Park Sept. 10.

The general committee of arrangements of the Junior Mechanics held an important business meeting at their hall last evening, at which a number of details were arranged for the meeting of the state council to be held in this county in September. John Sellers, chairman of the general committee, has appointed the following heads of sub-committees: Press, Homer Owen; entertainment, Howard Moon; reception, J. E. Anderson; souvenir and badge, Arthur Duncan.

A handsome and novel souvenir is being prepared at the K. T. & K. pottery and will be distributed among the delegates.

Arrangements were made for a reception at Rock Springs on the afternoon and evening of September 10, which will be participated in by the local

The tableau lasted only an instant, but it was a fraction of time that was fraught with tremendous excitement. Then Lisle's free hand dropped to his holsters. It leaped up again, the arm straightened out and stiffened with deadly aim, there was a loud report, and Jim Cummings pitched headlong from his saddle to the earth. His horse, frightened, started away. Lisle would have been dragged down and killed even then had not his right arm been free. He dropped the pistol and seized the reins, digging the spurs into Thompson's horse, chasing the other, and riding thus madly he succeeded in thrusting his one free hand into one of his pockets. When he drew it forth it contained a clasp knife. He opened the blade with his teeth and cut the rope.

While the cowboys were cheering and throwing their sombreros into the air, firing their pistols and otherwise testifying to their joy and relieving the pressure of suspense under which they had labored, Craig Thompson rode out to Lisle and met him.

"Kid," he said, and his voice was husky with emotion, "I'm proud of you! Hang me if I ain't! Just make a speech to them fellers now, short and to the point."

But Lisle scarcely heard him. He cantered to the center of the ground and raised his right arm to enjoin silence. When it was achieved, he rose in his stirrups and turned his head slowly from side to side until he felt a touch upon his shoulder.

Then he started up with a cry as one who has been rudely awakened from a dream.

"Come here, boy," he said in a tone that shook with emotion. "I want to look at you. Who taught you that song? Who gave you that voice? What strange mixture are you?"

"Craig," said Lisle in surprise, not heeding the questions, "what is the matter? Are those tears in your eyes—tears because I sang to you?"

"Yes, they're tears. Do you think that I am ashamed of them? Men shed tears only when they are necessary to keep the heart from bursting. Mine burst long ago, but somehow I got it together again, and maybe the cement I used wears a little with time. Anyhow, that song of yours opened a seam or two in the old wound. That song brings back memories, and memories are plain things to have around if they ain't just the sort that a feller wants. Who taught you that song?"

"Nobody. I learned it myself. It came with some music that father ordered years ago. He does not like it. I never sing it to him. I have not sung it before in a long time. I do not know why I thought of it tonight."

"I do. It was just my heart speaking to yours, Lisle. Will you be offended, boy, if I tell you that you have got a voice like a woman's—just like the voice of a woman whom I used to know, the sweetest and best woman who ever lived? She was my sister, Lisle, and she used to sing that song to me. I liked it because her name was Alice, like the song. It's a good many years since I saw her, Lisle, and I don't know whether she is alive or dead. Don't you see, kid, why my callous old heart filled up with tears so that it would have burst if I hadn't shied a few?"

"I am sorry, Craig, very sorry, that I selected that song."

"Don't you be sorry; be glad. It saved me from one of my fits, for one of 'em has been coming on ever since I have been here."

"Shall I sing something else for you?"

"No; don't sing; don't play. I don't want to get the taste of that one out of my mouth. Sit here and talk with me. We won't have another evening together for a long time—maybe never."

"Why do you say that?"

"I'm going to light out in the morning before that fit comes on. You think I am older than your father, don't you?"

"I should say that you are, by several years."

"Well, I reckon I am in some ways. It comes of having fits, I suppose, but Dick Maxwell is five years older than I am. He's 48 or thereabout, according to his say. I look about 58, but I'm only 43. Do you know what I am getting at?"

"No."

"This: I'm preaching, lad. Every one of those years that rest on my head without having come into my life was put there by a piece of scoundrelism that I committed when I was just the age that you are now, and I hadn't any more excuse for getting into it than you have now either. I don't say that you'll ever get into a place where you may be likely to do anything that ain't right, but if you do there will be time to think—there always is, for thinking is mighty quick work—and if that time ever does come you remember what I have said just now and stop long enough to hum that song over to yourself before you cut loose from the outfit and go it alone. Life ain't going to be all roses for you, Lisle Maxwell, and don't you forget it! Your father hasn't brought you up right, to my way of thinking. You needn't get huffy. I ain't criticizing him. I'm analyzing you. You don't know any more about the world outside of this ranch than a hog knows about skating, and that ain't much to speak of. I've been watching you while I've been here, and there are a whole lot of things that you have got to learn between now and the time when you will have to go it alone, and nobody ever knows when that time is coming. It's just like a blamed Injin and draws a bead on your vitals from behind a bush or a rock when you ain't looking, and it's a dead shot every time. You can't throw a loop over circumstance and drag it along a willing captive, like we did that steer. It's got a way of slipping out and roping you instead, and you've got to post yourself about things so that you will be ready to keep one hand out in just about the same way that you poked yours through the loop of Jim Cummings' riata over in the Smoky. I don't wonder that some of the boys have said that you look like a woman. You do, and you do not. You do because you have got a tender heart, like a woman's, and it sticks out through your masculine garb just as plain as daylight when you ain't thinking. Dick Maxwell has trained you right enough as far as he has gone, for all I know, but he's a good ways from going far enough. I want you to make me a promise, Lisle."

SPORTS FOR JULY 4.

Race Between Wilson and Mayo One of Events at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, June 28.—All arrangements have been completed for the bicycle races and field sports at Schenley park on July 4. There are seven bicycle events, and four diamond prizes will be given in each event, valued at $35, $25, $15 and $10.

The list of events follows: Mile novice; half mile, open; one mile, boys; one mile, open, one mile, handicap; five-mile handicap; pursuit race, open to all; professional race between Lester Wilson, of Pittsburg, and Otto Mayo, of Erie, Pa.

The track events are six in number and the first four winners in each event will be given diamond prizes, valued at $35, $25, $15 and $10.

The events are: 100-yard dash, 100-yard dash, boys; 220-yard dash, 440-yard run, 220-yard hurdle, half mile handicap.

In addition, there will be two events in throwing the baseball, one event open to all and the second open to boys. The prizes will be a $25 diamond for the winners in each and a $15 diamond for the second best.

Entry blanks are out and can be secured by addressing W. L. McIlwain, 422 Third avenue, or the sporting editors of the daily papers.

PENN'S BAR ASSOCIATION

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Bedford, Pa., June 28.—The following among others were elected officers of the State Bar association for ensuing year: President, Alexander Simpson, Jr., of Philadelphia; among the vice presidents is E. W. Smith, of Pittsburgh; secretary, William H. Staake, of Philadelphia; treasurer, William Penn Lloyd, Cumberland; James R. McFarlane and C. P. Orr, of Pittsburgh, were elected members of the executive committee.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS

TO MEET AUG. 15.

Harrisburg, June 28.—The state Democratic executive committee, at a meeting in this city, decided to hold the state convention at Harrisburg on Aug. 15, for the nomination of candidates for state treasurer and supreme court judge.

MANIAC ATTEMPTED TO KILL THOMAS POTTER.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Thomas Potter, millionaire oil cloth manufacturer, and brother of former ambassador to Italy, William Potter, narrowly escaped assassination at the hands of Paul Lazarus, a maniac.

WILL ABIDE BY THE LAW.

Leader of West Virginia Strikers So Asserted—Said That Shooting Was by Kentuckians.

Thacker, W. Va., June 28.—Marshal A. C. Hufford and Sheriff Greenway Hatfield, who arrived here, stated positively that the reports of their having been fired upon from ambush and that the railroad station here was riddled with bullets while the officers were waiting for a train recently were incorrect. Not a shot was fired at the deputy while serving notices of the injunction on the strikers or at any time.

C. W. Burke, leader of the strikers, who has temporary headquarters here, said the strike came about from the opposition of Superintendent Lambert to the miners' union. The shooting of last week was done, he declared, by Kentuckians, and not by strikers. When asked if the ejectment of tenants would be met with resistance, Mr. Burke replied:

"No; the union men will follow out its policy of abiding by the law and make no resistance. We are getting $1,000 a week from the United Mine Workers of America, and all the men are in fairly good shape to stand a long period of idleness if necessary.

If we have to camp on the mountains for five years there can be no compromise in this affair."

THE POPE WAS REPORTED ILL.

Such a Dispatch Said to Have Reached a Paris Paper.

Paris, June 28.—A dispatch to the Petit Bleu from Rome announces the pope to be seriously ill and says that Dr. Lapponi, his attending physician, does not leave the pontiff's bedside. Vatican officials are anxious concerning the pope's health.

BARKER SENTENCED TO FIVE YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

Jersey City, June 28.—Judge Blair sentenced Thomas G. Barker to state's prison for five years at hard labor for attempting to kill Rev. John Kellogg at Arlington, Feb. 3. Barker's counsel, after the sentence, filed a notice of appeal. This will act as a stay. Pending the decision on the appeal Barker may be admitted to bail.

GRAND JURY FAILED TO INDICT KOHLER AND WORK.

Akron, O., June 28.—The special grand jury which investigated the rumors the publication of which caused the horsewhipping of Samuel A. Kennedy, reported. No indictments were returned in connection with the case, but an elaborate report, censuring all who circulated the alleged scandal was made. Kennedy's friends were up in arms that the jury did not investigate the action of B. S. Work and S. H. and George C. Kohler for taking the law into their own hands. Kennedy is unable to leave his bed.

PAINFUL WALLOPING

Received by the Phoenix Base Ball
Club at Fairview—Country
Fellows Won, 22 to 10.

Last evening when the Phoenix club base ball team returned from Fairview the band didn't play and there was not a large delegation at the bridge to greet them. Instead they drove in sad and lonely.

Flushed with their victory over
Bethany, the Phoenix boys started out yesterday figuring on just how many runs they would get and how badly
they would wallop the Fairview boys.
They are wiser now.

The corn field in which the game was played was not the best ball ground in the world. It was a rather warm day and the Phoenix boys suffered and perspired while their country brethren didn't seem to mind. Errors were plentiful. It took about four hours to play the game. When it wound up Fairview had 22 runs and the Phoenix boys had 10.
